

FREIGHTER RESCUES 263 AFTER VESSEL BURNS

PASSENGERS AND CREW ADRIFT IN SEA SIX HOURS

Palatial Liner City of Honolulu Burns to Water's Edge
LOSS IS $2,000,000
Record Run By Shipping Board Vessel Made to Doomed Craft.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 13.—Friday the thirteenth dawned without its traditional terrors for the seventy-six passengers and 187 members of the crew of the palatial liner City of Honolulu. They were safe after passing through the ordeals of fire and being adrift at sea in open boats for six hours.

The speedy rescue of the passengers and crew of the burning liner was a great triumph for radio. Though the radio set aboard, the City of Honolulu was able to apprise the world of the plight the fire had brought upon them. Every vessel in the Pacific between the Hawaiian Islands and the United States was informed and ready to render all assistance possible. It enabled quick checking of positions which revealed the Thomas, the West Faralan and the Enterprise were vessels in best positions to make the rescue run. When the news came that the West Faralan had won the race and the Thomas would carry the passengers to land, the Enterprise was able to resume her course.

Throughout the day and night wireless kept the world informed of the steps in rescue and through its medium of a flow of private messages informed friends on the mainland of the safety of the endangered ones who were safe abroad the West Faralan.

High praise of the conduct of Captain R. Lester and the crew of the City of Honolulu was contained in these private messages. Picked up by the shipping board freighters West Faralan after that vessel had made a record run to the point in the Pacific 650 miles from this coast, where the City of Honolulu became a blazing wreck, the 263 souls whose fate had been cause for grave anxiety spent the night as best they could on the heavily laden outbound freight boat. Its officers and crew gave up their quarters to make the passengers as comfortable as possible.

At daybreak the United States Transport, Thomas was nearing the scene and preparing to take all of the City of Honolulu's passenger list and crew aboard for transportation to San Francisco. The big transport, which in war times accommodated six hundred officers and two thousand men, will be able to take care of all in rough but comfortable style. The transfer is expected to take place shortly after daylight. The Thomas is due here Sunday afternoon.

Burned practically to the water's edge, the hulk of the City of Honolulu—the former Atlantic liner Frederick der Grosse, and war time transport Huron—was still afloat at last wireless reports from the West Faralan. She was expected to sink. In the event she does not go down either the West Faralan will tow her to Honolulu or two coast guard cutters en route here from Mainland ports will endeavor to take her hulk back to Los Angeles. The loss of the vessel is estimated at $2,000,000.

So far as advices received here have indicated the 37 men and 39 women and children making up the passenger list of the City of Honolulu, suffered but little. The transfer to boats was accomplished without trouble and in orderly fashion after flames had made abandonment of the vessel necessary at 9 a. m. yesterday.

For six hours the passengers and crew floated about with their former liner blazing to the heavens and belching forth a column of smoke which seemed to reach a mile high. They were prepared to spend the night in the little boats as wireless reports had indicated the Thomas, the West Faralan and the Enterprise were far away. The West Faralan was a dark entry in the vicinity not being known until long after the City of Honolulu's radio was still.

SNOW FALLS IN MANY PARTS OF MICHIGAN

Detroit, Oct. 13.—Snow was reported in various parts of the state early today, the first time this year causing farmers to fear for their potato crops, still in the ground. At Boyne City, in the heart of the potato belt, intermittent snow flurries were driven by high winds. An hour's snow fall was reported farther south in Ogemaw county and in the Thumb district.

PLAN FOR SHIP PROHIBITION IS BEING MENAGED

Moves By Foreign Lines May Frustrate Entire Program is Word

Attempt to Thwart Government's Enforcement Scheme Made

Washington, Oct. 13.—Orders went out from Washington this afternoon that a "rule of reason" is to be followed by the government's prohibition and customs agents in enforcing the Daugherty bone dry ruling in American waters.

The order came from Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who is charged with the enforcement of the Daugherty ruling, and they were dispatched to all diplomatic and customs agents abroad as well as to enforcement officers at home.

Washington, Oct. 13.—The federal restraining order issued in New York to prevent prohibition agents from interfering with liquor aboard vessels of the International Mercantile Marine Company will have the effect of holding up enforcement of Attorney General Daugherty's latest bone dry ruling at all American ports, it was declared today Judge J. J. Britt, chief counsel to Prohibition Commissioner Haynes.

Although the temporary injunction issued by Federal Judge Hand applies only to the jurisdiction of New York, restraining the customs officers at the port of New York and the prohibition officials in that territory from warring against ships which bring liquor within the three mile limit, Judge Britt said that the order would apply constructively to the entire country.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Determined moves by foreign ship lines to secure injunction against enforcement of the terms of the Daugherty ship liquor opinion, may frustrate the entire prohibition ship plan, and nullify the effect of any regulations that may later be issued, according to officials of the department of justice today.

Attorney General Daugherty when advised that the international mercantile had secured from Judge Hand a temporary restraining order against federal agents regarded it as the first of a succession of such suits by other ship combines or foreign ownership to thwart the government's enforcement program.

Officials of the treasury said the regulations which are being drafted to enforce the Daugherty opinion will be greatly delayed. Apparently the treasury is waiting to weigh the full effect of the Daugherty opinion, and to study the efforts of the foreign ship owners to combat the decision.

YOUTH RELEASED OF MURDER CHARGE

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 13.—Investigation of the murder of Rev. Dr. Edward W. Hall, wealthy pastor of the fashionable Protestant Episcopal Church of St. John the Evangelist and his beautiful choir leader Mrs. James Mills centered today about the house of the slain clergyman.

The celebration, which began last night for the return home of Clifford Hayes, formerly charged with the murder was continuing today. Many stores in the region of Hayes home have large placards in the windows saying, "Hayes is home." There was a fire works display in front of the Hayes home last night and tomorrow friends of the family will sell tags to reimburse the youth's parents for the money they have spent.

RECEIVES SENATOR'S COMMISSION

Mrs. W. H. Felton, called the "Grand Old Lady of Georgia," is shown here receiving from Governor Thomas Hardwick her commission as U. S. Senator to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Thomas E. Watson. She is the first woman ever sent to the Senate.

Turkish Guerrillas Attack Greek Outposts In Thrace

Panic Caused in Constantinople By Activities of Irregulars—Kemal Allows Five Days of Grace.

London, Oct. 13.—Bands of irregulars are attacking Greek outposts in eastern Thrace near the Bulgarian frontier, according to advices from Athens today. Greeks in Thrace are becoming panic stricken as a result of increasing activities on the part of the Turkish guerrillas and are fleeing to Constantinople.

Athens, Oct. 13.—American naval authorities in the Near East today reported that there are 25,000 Greek and Armenian refugees on the Anatolian coast awaiting evacuation to Greece. Kemal has given five more days for the transportation of the fugitives from Turkish soil.

Although General Mazarakis had not yet signed the Mudania armistice protocol, it was reported that the Greek government has notified the allies that Greece will accept it.

Serious trouble is threatened in eastern Thrace where the Greek troops are refusing to obey the Greek war office.

Colonel Plastiras, in reviewing the Greek Thracian army, was said to have told the soldiers that Greece would not abandon eastern Thrace but would "defend it to the very end."

There were rumors that the Greek forces stationed at Adrianople were demanding a soviet but this was formally denied.

CENSORSHIP NOT ENOUGH FOR FILMS DECLARES RIEGEL

Director of Education Addresses Parent-Teacher Meeting.

Columbus, Oct. 13.—"I believe in film censorship because it keeps out a lot of pictures in which the themes are not intended for dramatic use but censorship is only an emergency measure," declared State Director of Education Vernon M. Riegel, addressing the Ohio Parent-Teachers' Association convention here.

"Censorship will never remedy the motion picture industry," Director Riegel continued. "There must be a creation of a demand for better pictures on the part of theatre patrons. If people want better pictures, they can get them," he said.

Dr. Henry H. Goddard, recent head of Ohio's Juvenile Research Bureau, today conducted a children's clinic at Ohio State University chapel, showing types of delinquent, dependent, backward and psychopathic children.

This was followed by the giving of intelligence tests to normal and superior children by Dr. Sidney Preasey and Dr. Luella Preasey, Department of Psychology, the Ohio State University.

REPUBLICANS TALK CAMPAIGN PROGRAM

Columbus, Oct. 13.—Plans for electing Congressman S. D. Fess, as U. S. senator, Col. Carmi A. Thompson, as governor and for the election of the entire Republican state ticket were discussed today, following a noonday luncheon at the DeSales Hotel by about 150 Ohio Republican leaders who were guests of Mrs. John G. Battelle, Columbus, vice chairman of the Republican State Campaign Committee.

The reception committee included Mrs. David Tod, and Mrs. John Middleton, Youngstown and Mrs. John McKee, Springfield.

GIRL MASQUERADES AS BOY BUT IS CAUGHT

Chicago, Oct. 13.—"It was all wonderful—simply wonderful," This was the declaration today of Miss Margaret Davis, 14 year old high school girl who was found last night, disguised as a boy, on a farm near Roselle, Ill., following her mysterious disappearance four days ago. Police and relatives had been searching frantically for her.

Miss Davis said she started out on her adventure because she did not want to continue as a student at the John Marshall High School and because her parents scolded her for remaining away from school on three days last week.

CONGRESS WILL LIKELY CONVENE ON NOVEMBER 20

Tentative Agreement Between Harding and Leaders Reached

TO COMPLETE WORK

Five Big Appropriation Bills Will Be Ready for Session.

Washington, Oct. 13.—A tentative agreement has been reached between President Harding and leading legislators to summon Congress back to Washington in special session on November 20, thirteen days after the country decides on the political complexion of the new Congress at the polls, it was learned today.

The decision resulted from a number of conferences the president had had with Republican leaders at the White House this week at which a fairly comprehensive program for the expiring 67th Congress was agreed upon. The call probably will be issued Nov. 10.

It is the present plan of the White House to drive the dying 67th Congress full tilt right up to March 3, the date of its legal expiration, and then not call the new 68th Congress into session until the regular winter session begins in December.

Rep. Madden has informed the White House he will have five big appropriation bills ready to shoot in between December 4 and 10. These and the administration's ship subsidy bill are expected to occupy many weeks.

The president has informed Republican leaders that he distinctly does not want Congress in session next summer and will not call a session until the following December unless some grave public emergency arises.

Mr. Harding wants to go to the Pacific coast and thence to Alaska, starting next May or June, to be gone several months, and he can not well go if Congress is sitting in the capital. He believes next summer will be an ideal time to get Washington "back to normalcy."

HUGE SIGN PLACED AT CHURCH TELLS OF RALLY DAY SUNDAY

The Rev. W. H. Tilford, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, introduced an innovation in church and religious publicity in Xenia, when he had a huge sign, advertising the Rally Day Sunday, affixed to the front of the church.

The canvas displayed across the front of the edifice stands as an example of modern and progressive methods of bringing the church to the people and as an argument for the theory that the church should advertise as well as other enterprises in order to overcome the appeal of light amusements and keep the pews filled.

The Rally Day Sunday will mark the opening of the fall and winter seasons, when Sunday School members will be expected to shed the laxities that go with the heated period, and resume with more endeavor their Sunday School work. It will mark the return of Sunday School pupils for the fall work, and the occasion will be celebrated fittingly, a program having been arranged, according to the Rev. Mr. Tilford.

The program will include special music, a play by Sunday School boys and rewards for the children and the pastor will also take part in the affair, which will be held in the Sunday School room of the church at 9:15 o'clock in the morning. In connection with Rally Day Vesper services will be held also Sunday afternoon at four o'clock.

FEAR RED COUP IN GERMANY IS BEING PLANNED

Communist Agents Sent to Berlin and the Baltic States

London, Oct. 13.—The Russian soviet government today was reported to be sending many communist agents to Berlin and the Baltic states. Apprehension is being aroused that the reds plan a coup in Germany.

A dispatch from Moscow quoted Leon Trotsky, people's commissar for war, as saying in a speech: "If we managed to survive the past five years we can live forever." Trotsky announced that Russia will build a minimum fleet to defend Kronstadt, in the Gulf of Finland and the Black Sea coast.

LLOYD GEORGE TO RESIGN POSITION AS PREMIER SOON

Sir Robert Horne May Be Successor—General Election Probable

London, Oct. 13.—Premier Lloyd George, who has held the tiller of the British ship of state for virtually six years, today conferred with King George upon political matters. Belief is growing that the premier will tender his resignation to the king very soon and that he will announce a general election before the end of this year.

Sir Robert Horne, chancellor of the exchequer and head of the British debt funding mission to the United States, conferred with King George last night, leading to a report that he may be the next premier.

It is known that Mr. Lloyd George wishes to retire from public life for a time at least. His health has suffered from the tremendous strain he has been under since he took his present office and he wishes to take a year or more to rest up. During his vacation he probably will visit the United States.

The premier will hold a number of political conferences tomorrow also making a political speech at Manchester.

DEMOCRATS BACK LEGUE SAYS FESS

East Liverpool, Oct. 13.—Simon D. Fess, Republican candidate for United States senator, in an address here yesterday declared that if the league of nations is to be an issue in 1924 that it should be considered an issue in the present campaign.

Mr. Fess also spoke at Salem and Wellsville. Fess asserted that in recent statements of James M. Cox, whom he declared is the titular leader of the Democratic party, had urged the United States to join the league and "insist on raising that issue again in spite of the 1920 result."

"The situation in Asia Minor and possible results in Europe demonstrates what joining the league would have meant to America," Fess said.

HUSTON-CONLEY WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

A pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday evening, Oct. 11, when Miss Ruth Huston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester M. Huston, of near Cedarville, was united in marriage to Mr. Wilbur R. Conley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Conley at the home of the bride's parents, at seven thirty o'clock, in the presence of ninety guests.

The beautiful and impressive ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. P. Harriman, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian Church of Cedarville, pastor of the bride and bridegroom, assisted by Dr. W. R. McChesney, president of Cedarville College.

The Huston home was profusely decorated with flowers and potted plants, which combined with evergreens formed a beautiful setting for the altar under which the marriage vows were taken.

Miss Flora Beam of Spring Valley, sang preceding the ceremony, "When You Are Truly Mine" and "O Perfect Love," accompanied by Miss Dorothy Tarr of Cedarville.

At the opening strains of the wedding march the officiating ministers with the bridegroom and his brother, Mr. R. M. Conley of Crystal City, Mo., as best man, entered and took their places. The bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage.

The bride was preceded by the ring bearer, little Rachel Harriman, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Harriman, carrying the rings concealed in the heart of a large white rose. The flower girl, little Janet Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Murray of Jamestown, walked next, scattering rose petals from a basket. The maid of honor Miss Lorene Glass came next wearing a hand-some gown of white crepe de chine trimmed with pink and carrying a bouquet of Ophelia roses, caught with pink tulle.

The bride was lovely in a gown of silk canton crepe with Venetian point lace, and coral trimmings. Her veil of tulle was caught with orange blossoms, and she carried shower bouquet of bride's roses.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride and bridegroom led the way to the dining room where an elegant three course dinner was served. Seated at the bride's table with the bride and bridegroom were Miss Lorene Glass, Miss Flora Beam, Miss Dorothy Tarr, Miss Mary Chesnut, Miss Marjorie Wright, Miss Florence Smith, Miss Alice Lackey, and Mr. R. M. Conley, Mr. Merrill Stormont, Mr. Velmar Compton, Mr. Aaron Kennison, and Mrs. Clifford Glass.

Mr. and Mrs. Conley left Wednesday night for Cleveland, on a short wedding trip, Mrs. Conley's traveling suit being of dark blue tricot with hat to match.

On their return they will reside on the Whitelaw Reid homestead near Cedarville. Both Mr. and Mrs. Conley are graduates of Cedarville High School, Mrs. Conley at the completion of her school work taking a business course at the Miami-Jacobs business college in Dayton, while Mr. Conley took two courses in agriculture at the Ohio State University. He is a well known young farmer of the county. His bride is popular in a large circle of friends, several prenuptial parties being given in her honor.

SORORITY MEMBERS ENJOY HALLOWEEN PARTY

Amid the round of merry Halloween parties given during this season of the year, was the affair given by the pledges of the Delta Theta Tau Sorority who entertained the members of the organization at the home of Miss Wilfred Zartman, on North Detroit Street, Wednesday evening.

The Zartman home was artistically decorated in orange and black, the only illumination being weird pumpkin faces. The girls were costumed in "kid togs" and spent the forepart of the evening with childish games. Three contests were enjoyed, Miss Corinne Welch, Miss Helen Hickman and Miss Lena Bales winning the prizes. During the evening balloons were showered upon the guests each balloon containing a nursery rhyme. The one read by Miss Olive Huston revealed the date of the marriage of Miss Mildred Confer and Mr. Frank A. Lott, Nov. 6 being announced.

Late in the evening a delicious four course luncheon was served cafeteria style. Hostesses for the affair were Miss Olivia Cost, Miss Lucille Beatty, Miss Esther Welch, Miss Elizabeth Mullen, Miss Frances Johnson and Miss Zartman.

The Rev. and Mrs. D. D. Dodds and family are preparing to move soon from their residence on South Detroit Street, to the residence of Mrs. Anna Morris on East Market Street. They will move their household goods as soon as Mrs. Dodds, who has been ill with auto-intoxication, has recovered.

The condition of Dr. Ida Woolsey of West Main Street, who suffered a stroke of paralysis a few days ago, is critically ill and it is believed she can survive only a short time.

Mrs. Charles F. Gowdy, West Church Street, who was quite ill for several days, is now much improved and is able to be out.

The condition of Mrs. L. H. Whitman of the Fairground Road, who has been very ill for several weeks remains practically the same.

Mrs. M. Haverstick, returned Thursday from Dayton, where she spent ten days with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Reynolds, of Hills and Dales. Mrs. Reynolds is leaving Sunday for St. Paul,

Minn., where she will spend five weeks as the guest of Mrs. Margaret Crockett.

Miss Edith Lewis of Wilmington has accepted a position in the Moser Shoe Store and is making her home with her sister, Mrs. P. A. Fuller.

Mrs. Walter Davis of Dayton Ave. and Mrs. Ella Johnson, of High St., spent Thursday in Wilmington visiting Mrs. Johnson's sister Mrs. Myers.

Mr. E. F. Gale was delightfully entertained at a luncheon given in Dayton Wednesday in honor of her birthday.

SOCIAL GATHERING OF PYTHIAN SISTERS

Mrs. Emerson Osman and Mrs. Sarah E. Fifer receive thirty members of the Pythian Sisters lodge at the home of Mrs. Osman on High Street, Thursday afternoon.

Clever contests, the Halloween season adding to the attractive program and predominating in the decorations of the rooms were amusing features of the affair. A two course luncheon was served the guests.

Members of the order made plans for a party to be given by the organization at the Knights of Pythias Castle, in November.

MOTION PICTURES PROVE POPULAR IN CHINA NOW

Canton, Oct. 13.—Motion pictures with plenty of fast and thrilling action draw the large crowds in Chinese "movie" houses, while films featuring soul kisses, vamps with Mona Lisa smiles, and society pictures in which the women wear low cut evening gown soon put the proprietors out of business.

Pictures showing the beautiful heroine escaping from bandits, who are carrying her away in an aeroplane by jumping from the plane to a fast moving train or being rescued from the Indians, just as she is to be burned at the stake, by a brave cowboy, are demanded by the Chinese audiences.

According to the representatives of the Long Kong Amusement Company, Canton, the Chinese are bored to death by prolonged love-making scenes and shocked by the extreme décolleté and the airy, fairy draperies worn by wood nymph dancing maidens with a wreath of flowers on their flowing tresses.

The naughty vamp who wrecks a happy home does not bring a thrill to a Chinese audience. While patriotic pictures, with plots woven around the prodigal son, the daughter who marries the villain to save the old homestead or the sweet country maiden who loves her cows and chickens and wins the heart of the millionaire club man away from the blase women of the city by her simplicity will not produce interest, let alone a tear or a handclap.

What the Chinese movie fan wants is action. He delights in thrilling dramas of adventure, narrow escapes from the claws of death, and he must have a happy ending where right triumphs over wrong after many difficulties.

They are also very fond of comedies and have a keen sense of humor. They rock with laughter over Charlie Chaplin, Harold Lloyd and Ben Turpin pictures. Often the program for an afternoon or evening performance will offer only comedies.

Among the women actresses especially popular in Canton are Ruth Roland and Pearl White. In the lobby of the Pearl Theatre are highly colored posters illustrating three Ruth Roland pictures which are to be shown in the near future.

The thrilling escapades set forth on the vivid billboards are a source of never ending wonderment to the prospective patrons who collect in front of the theatre to discuss the plot possibilities suggested in the illustrations.

The Pearl Theatre is the one big movie house of Canton and the management is hoping to educate his audiences to appreciate the five and seven reel features. As it is they now demand only the long serial with gripping continuous action and comedies.

The management shows only American-made films for the Chinese prefer the American pictures to those made by English, French or Italian companies. When films other than those made in America are shown the management informed me, his audience is very small and may dwindle away altogether unless the bill is changed or an American film added to the same program.

EXPECT FAST GAME AT PARK SUNDAY WHEN LEGION PLAYS

Members of Foody Post, American Legion, are anticipating the biggest football game of the independent season here, when their team stacks up against the Dayton Eagles at Washington Street Park Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The Eagles are old rivals of the local eleven. The rivalry beginning when the Eagles were playing under the name of the Beavers and Xenia was represented in semi-pro football by the Mercury Athletic Club. Each year this rivalry has been intensified, and both clubs strive hard to be in tip-top shape for this annual grid clash.

The Eagles will not be in top form for the battle next Sunday, according to advance word from the camp of the Gem City eleven. Last Sunday the Dayton gridgers were beaten 7 to 0 by a Columbus team, and they lost more than the game when an X-ray taken several days ago showed that "Ciz" Bergman, star Eagles half back, received a broken ankle in the Columbus fracas.

The loss of Bergman will handicap the visitors, but with "Tuff" McManus back in uniform for the first time this week, they feel the position well fortified. In addition, Friend, Drummer, Euler and "Cleet" Sillen, a former Stivers star, make up a sweet appearing backfield. Coach Van Hill and Baujan of the University of Dayton, are assisting the Beavers to round into shape this week.

Under the electric lights at Washington Street Park the Legion eleven has not been idle. Using a white ball, visible in the dark, the Legion gridgers have turned in a hard-week's practice in anticipation of the big game. A full lineup will be available for the local eleven for the first time this season Sunday, and fans expect the locals to do their stuff when they meet the Eagles.

The accident took place in Thirtieth Street, Brooklyn at about 13 minutes after midnight.

THIS IS YEAR OF SMALL MEANS U. S. TOURIST IS WORD

Paris Oct. 13.—This has been the year of the small-means American tourist.

Hertofore a "trip to Europe" has been a luxury confined to the wealthy and the nearly wealthy. It has been an extravagance, at any rate, for which the entire family saved their pennies for years beforehand.

Hertofore, from another point of view, Europeans have been used to seeing only a pampered class of Americans—Americans who demand everything of the "de luxe" quality, Americans who never so much as count the change, much less ask prices in advance.

NEW ERA IN TOURING

That this season has marked the setting in of a new era in European touring is the belief of M. Junot, president of the "consortium des Agences de Voyage", in an interview.

"Tourists this year are very numerous, but they are not of the richest classes," said M. Junot. "They appear to be for the most part of classes who are not accustomed to cross the Atlantic or the English Channel."

Among reasons for the change M. Junot cites the fact that the war not only has given folk a taste for travel, but that many former members of the American and British expeditionary forces brought over their families and friends to show them settings wherein they suffered or performed heroic deeds.

He points out also that the taste for economy has been lost somewhere in the shuffle of present-day economic disturbance. Persons of moderate means no longer care what they spend, or whether the future is provided for.

"France should profit by this new order of things," urges M. Junot, "to throw off not only its exceptional monuments of the past, but also its durable pleasures, which make it so pleasant a place to visit. It should not cater entirely to the tourist who comes in a motor car, but it should regard the excursionist who arrives by bicycle. It has enough palaces, it should emphasize now its modest, comfortable and clean hotels of a class beneath."

WOULD SIMPLIFY FARES.

The touring expert advises also simplification of railroad regulations, so that foreigners may understand exactly for what accommodations they pay when they buy a ticket — and in this regard he takes a special dig at the sleeping car companies—and he advocates abolition of visas on passports.

M. Junot complains bitterly that because of the difference in exchange rates most tourists does not stay long enough in France to appreciate the beauties of the country, but use Paris only as a stopping-off place on the way to Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia and other low exchange nations.

HARDING IN THE CAMPAIGN.

A backward look is worth while just now. Mr. Harding made the issue quite clear in 1920. He believed the people were tired of autocracy, and he himself undoubtedly was tired of it. He promised that if he were elected there would be no autocracy and that he would in all things take counsel and give up his original position if he found himself wrong. The Democrats remember that, at least, for they still sneer at his announcement in that campaign that in all cases he would consult the "best minds."

The people deliberately voted their preference for the change in policy indicated by Senator Harding. They voted for the abolition of one-man government and the substitution of a flexible government in which the President would be open to reason and would hear everybody. The issue was plain and the majority tremendous. Governor Cox was well enough liked and made a better run than any other Democrat could have made, but his personality simply did not enter the campaign. It was fought out, not between the two candidates, but upon the issue.

The President faithfully has endeavored to carry out the mandate given him. He has given wide latitude to his Cabinet officers, has conferred patiently with everybody, has corrected such points of his policy as he believed, after consultation, to be mistaken; but he has stood firm for his own principles.

Why, then, should the opposition expect to make capital out of the fact that the President has fulfilled his promises? He has disappointed them by not being the mere figurehead they depicted; but he has been a consulting President, a man who heard everybody and never was stubborn.

REPUBLICAN REFUSAL TO ENTER LEAGUE IS VINDICATED ONCE MORE.

The refusal of the Republican Senate to ratify the Treaty of Versailles and the Covenant of the League of Nations is once more being vindicated by events in Europe. By this refusal the United States was kept out of the League of Nations. Her membership therein would have bound her irrevocably to participate in all European matters; to have helped maintain the boundaries and division of territory as fixed by the Treaty of Versailles.

Europe has been on the verge of a general war involving practically all the nations that were allied against Germany during the World War. This new war was made imminent by the war which has been going on between Greece and Turkey over boundaries and territory which were fixed under the Treaty of Versailles.

The war between these two nations is in itself in defiance of the Treaty of Versailles and the League of Nations. The fact that it has been going on is conclusive proof of the futility and impotency of the League of Nations, whose sole excuse for existence is its pretended ability to maintain peace in Europe, primarily, and throughout the world as a secondary consideration.

At no time since the creation of the League of Nations has there been peace in Europe although none of the wars that have been going on since the League was created has approached the magnitude of the war between Turkey and Greece. Greece was a signatory power to the Treaty of Versailles and the League of Nations, and as such was entitled to have all of her rights and territory as fixed by that treaty guaranteed and protected by the other members of the League. This has not been done, either because the League of Nations is unwilling to live up to its pretensions or because it is unable to do so. Either situation is condemnation of the League and its pretensions.

If the United States were now a member of the League of Nations, there is not the least doubt but that she would long since have been called upon to engage actively in this embroglio, probably in the form of sending an army in the disputed territory to police it and act as a buffer between the warring powers.

IT RAINED.

It rained Saturday after a long autumnal drought. There was no down-pouring gully washer and ground-soaker. Rather was it an apologetic, slow sort of drizzle-drazzle, half-mist, half-rain, that washed Autumn's face and freshened the robes in which she walks in beauty on the hills.

The rain revealed that this is no blazing red-and-gold autumn. There has been no frost to deepen the reds into scarlets and the yellows into raw, new gold. This fall Nature is using pastels, dull tints and softened shades. On Saturday the maples stood out in soft, wet, brown masses. The golds were old-golds and the reds were dulled and blended into the sun-browned hill slopes.

Only the ivy was flying the Soviet colors in red flecks on weathered gray walls. Sumac and sassafras stood in dulled maroons and the dogwoods in dark reds that were lustrous in the slow drip of the rain. Many a tree was wearing its summer colors of July green, shoulder to shoulder and elbow to elbow with its fellows in red, brown and sober yellow.

Deep Summer was jostling mid-Autumn. The Moon of Green Corn was cheek to cheek with the Moon of Falling Leaves. The roadside walnuts were leaf-naked against a background of oaks hardly touched by the magic of October. That magic had spread a mist film in the valleys and hung a purple haze across the brow of the hills.

The leaves fell in soft millions. Black birds moved in ragged regiments against a sky almost as dark as their own moving wings. The rains had started the Pageant of Autumn moving at a swifter pace. It will move faster now, and he is wise who gets himself to the hills and the high roads, to the lanes and the fields and sees something of this yearly miracle pass by. Public Ledger.

GERMANS BID LOW, BUT BALDWIN'S GET ORDER.

A German company underbid the Baldwin Locomotive Works by 50 per cent on some Central American contracts—and did not get the business, Frank E. Sutton, Central American representative of the Baldwin concern, told the Export Club of Philadelphia Association of Credit Men.

Mr. Sutton attributed the failure of the Germans to get the order to a growing distrust of the commercial methods in Germany. The consensus of a discussion following his talk was that Latin-Americans are losing faith in the Germans because of their tardiness in fulfilling contracts.

The uneducated people of Colombia are more friendly toward the United States since the payment of $25,000,000 to that country as an indemnity for the construction of the Panama Canal, Mr. Sutton said.

WONDER IF THE TURKS HAVE ANY BETTER AVERAGE THAN OUR IDIOT AUTOMOBILISTS.

1902--Twenty Years Ago--1922

Arrangements are going along steadily from the starting of the new industry at the old paper mill. The engine has arrived and soon as the contractor gets the bed in shape it can be placed in position.

the Pan Handle is at Xenia.

The positive announcement that Senator Hanna will appear at the Opera House tomorrow night has added enthusiasm to the preparations being made for the meeting which promises to be the largest that has been held in Xenia for a number of years. Mrs. B. R. McClellan has gone to Steubenville where she is a delegate at a Presbyterian meeting.

HEALTHY TEETH

It has been a long time since we have talked about teeth in this space they are perhaps not a pleasant subject of conversation, yet it is important to know something about them and it is most important to be convinced of the necessity of scrupulous care.

If, from early childhood, the teeth are brushed twice a day and a dentist is visited twice a year the teeth should be healthy and beautiful into

entirely and eat whole wheat. Fine white bread is responsible for a depressing amount of tooth decay because it forms gas in the stomach and increase the amount of fermentation in the mouth. The coarse particles of the whole wheat bread tend to scrape and clean the teeth and to stimulate the gums by friction against them. Coarse grained cereals, bran and cornmeal, for instance, are also good, also raw fruit.

E. B. G.—When the lashes and brows are straw color as yours are, they should be darkened with some harmless stain, such as a decoction from walnut shells, but I should never risk a chemical dye on the lashes. The only inconvenience of using this stain is the fact that it must be applied frequently as it will wear off much faster than a dye. Use a fine sable brush so only the hairs will be stained.

Worried One—I agree with you that "many young women have lines around their mouths," but they need not have them. If you are one of them stop doing the things that cause these lines.

Take care of the teeth. Keep the mouth mobile through exercise and do not bite the lips or form any other bad habits that make the mouth age prematurely.

Brown Eyes—With dark brown hair black eyes and medium shade of complexion, your colors are all of these in the autumn leaves.

Tomorrow—Yeast.

THE DOOMED SEVEN.

My seven cousins used to drive before my cottage door, and they sowed very much alive, but now they are no more. James Henry's car was trimmed with brass, and blithely it would flee; he stepped too fiercely on the gas and wound it round a tree. John drove a car with faulty brakes—he would not fix the same; we gathered up, with garden rakes, the fragments of his frame. Ned was a glad and smiling wight; where is that springald now? He ran without his lamps one night, and bumped against a cow. Charles tried to cross a railway track before a rushing train; there were nine fractures in his back, his head was rent in twain. And Joseph swung around a curve at fifty miles an hour; his monument you will observe hard by yon old gray tower. Adolphus lit a match to see if he had gasoline, and by the mere and on the lea he is no longer seen. Theophilus was prone to race with other speeding boats, and o'er his quiet resting place now graze the village goats. No more their chugging vans I hear, no more their joyous whoops; oh, other men have cousins dear, but mine have looped the loops.

THIS LIFE OF OURS

To him of material mind, life is just a happening, a puzzle without a solution, a dream that seems real but which never does take upon itself form and realization in everyday action.

Whereas to him who is spiritually minded, life exhibits a soul, a purpose, a grand expanse of opportunity through which his life is sieved into an existence that is never-ending through full of change.

Personally, I am indifferent as to my origin. Though I am ready to believe that it is one of vast evolutionary beauty, bathed and cleansed by the thought and desire of a great Creative Mind all through every intricate and interesting step of progress.

I am happy at the thought of being related to the birds of the field and to the moving creatures of the earth. I like to feel that I am a part of one great whole.

The great scientist, Agassiz, taking his stand for spiritual evolution,

once put his thought in these words: "To me the fact that the embryonic form of the highest Vertebrate recalls in its earlier stage the first representatives of its type in geological times and its lowest representatives at the present day, speaks only of an ideal relation, existing not in the things themselves, but in the Mind that made them."

What an astounding thought that all the energy which we as human beings possess, has come about at the expense of the sun!

Tyndall says that "in an amorphous drop of water lie latent all the marvels of crystalline force." A materialistic fact. But H. M. Tichenor, in his interesting little booklet "Biology and Spiritual Philosophy," says that "to the spiritualist, a living cell is evidence of a soul-source if a Soul-source of life, just as a drop of water, containing life, is evidence of an ocean of water."

What we are today, and all that we are, we owe to an early single cell! And our bodies are in themselves masses of millions of cells.

WILBERFORCE HAS PROMISING SCHEDULE

With one game tucked away on the winning side of the ledger by a comfortable margin, Coach Dean Mohr's Wilberforce Varsity football squad, will go after its second game with the East High School eleven of this city next Monday afternoon, which contest is being staged to prime the Varsity for bigger games ahead.

With Captain Tripp, star flanker, and seven other "W" men back from last season, indications are that Wilberforce will have one of the most successful football teams in its history this fall. The team is taking one stiff schedule, but with the eight veterans and a wealth of new material, including many former high school stars, Coach Mohr has the makings of a championship eleven at hand.

This is Coach Mohr's first year as coach of athletics at Wilberforce, succeeding former Coach Taylor to that position. He is a graduate of Northwestern University, at Evanston, Ill., where he distinguished himself in athletics while wearing the "purple". Coach Mohr has mentored both white and colored teams in football, basketball, baseball and track, and the fact that he is all-year coach at Wilberforce means that this University will identify itself with the varied sports during the year. Coach Mohr has turned out championship teams in all sports, and his last big achievement was in defeating the Division D, "Y" Clippers of Chicago, 38 to 31 for basketball supremacy of the middle west.

Letter men who donned football moleskins again this fall at Wilberforce are Captain Tripp, Roberts, Brown, McGee, Turner, Mitchell, Sedwick and Huff. Among the recruits are Willette, formerly of Central High, Cleveland; Stout of Charleston, W. Va.; Fairfax and Sprig of Ohio University; R. Lewis, of Commerce High, Columbus, P. Redden of West High, Columbus and Stewart, of Wendell Phillips, High, Chicago, who are all showing up well in the initial rehearsals.

Naturally the Varsity does not anticipate any trouble from light East High gridders but the game will give Coach Mohr an opportunity to use a number of his recruits and get a line on his material, in anticipation of big games with Kentucky Normal, Lincoln Y. W. Va. Institute, Simmons U., and other games that may be arranged. The schedule of Wilberforce follows:

October 9—Chillicothe at Wilberforce; (Wilberforce won.)
October 16—East High at Wilberforce.
October 21—Simmons University, Kentucky, at Wilberforce.
October 28—Open.
November 4—Kentucky Normal and Industrial Institute at Frankfort, Ky.
November 11—Open.
November 18—Lincoln University, Philadelphia.
November 30—West Va. Institute, at Wilberforce.

Three fatalities and four serious injuries have been caused by the automobile in the last twenty-four hours. Don Cox, 23, was instantly killed when the auto he was driving from the Champaign county hospital three miles south of Urbana, on the Springfield Urbana pike, was struck by a limited I. C. and E. traction car from Springfield, Thursday morning at 11:26 o'clock.

The Bradford family suffered severe injuries when the brakes of their auto failed to prevent the machine from crashing into one of the coaches of a Big Four passenger train at the Western avenue crossing, about three o'clock Thursday.

Syrup Pepsin Loved By Hosts of Babies

Half a teaspoonful will make a fretful youngster happy and playful

THE mother has her choice of many remedies for her baby's minor ills, but she should be careful which remedy she selects lest she do the child harm. What might be safe for herself may do injury to an infant. You will find that if the little one cries and doesn't want to play that its bowels are constipated. First look carefully to the diet and give the child one-half teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You will then see results in a few hours. You will not have to force it on babies or children: they actually ask for it, it is so pleasant-tasting and free from gripping.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with agreeable aromatics. The ingredients are stated on the package. It is a mild, gentle vegetable laxative that everyone finds effective and pleasant. It is better for you and yours than purgatives, coal-tar drugs, or salt

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

Use a safe laxative like Syrup Pepsin, and especially for the children, for invalids, growing girls, nursing mothers, elderly people, and persons recently operated upon who need bowel action with the least strain. Mrs. Lillian Brenington of Woodruff, S. C., always gives her children Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and Mrs. A. E. Blondin of Muskegon, Mich., will not have any other laxative in her home. Your druggist will supply you, and it only costs a cent a dose. Try it in constipation, colic, biliousness, flatulence, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds.

ATTEMPT TO HAVE STATE RECONSIDER BRYAN ESTATE OFFER

An attempt to have the State of Ohio reconsider its decision in the matter of the bequest of the late John Bryan, eccentric millionaire, of a tract of more than 500 acres of land near Yellow Springs for a game preserve, was behind a sojourn of a number of Springfield people to the tract Thursday.

Springfield people who are interested in agitating the proposition and have the State Legislature act on the bequest, organized the journey to the Bryan estate, where they picnicked and spent the day in travelling over the property. About 45 people were present, it is said.

Bryan left the property to the State with the proviso that it should be used as a game preserve and natural park as long as no religious worship of any nature would be permitted within its bounds. The estate was involved in considerable litigation for some time, which prevented the question of its acceptance from coming up until early last spring.

L. F. Clevenger, of this city who was then president of the Greene County Fish and Game Protective Association, was instrumental in presenting the situation before Governor Harry L. Davis, but after considering the bequest Governor Davis turned it down. According to the provisions of the will, the property is then to pass to Greene County and the question of its acceptance was put up to the county commissioners. Although the commissioners are said to favor the acceptance of the estate no formal action on the bequest has ever come from that body.

Members of the Board of Commissioners, R. D. Willison, G. N. Perrill and John A. North, were present at the convocation on the Bryan estate Thursday as was also R. M. A. Broadstone, of Greene County, Rep. Tom Calvert, of Clark County and Rep. Wiley of Mercer County. Agitators of the movement to have the state reconsider its original decision hope to interest the legislators in the project. Among Springfield people who are interested in the movement is Judge F. W. Geiger of the Clark County Common Pleas Court.

NEW INDEPENDENT TEAM UNDER WAY

George Haller, former coach of the St. Brigids' High football team is the moving spirit behind the organization of a new independent football eleven, that is now out for the 135 pound championship of this section.

It was originally intended to organize a team composed entirely of red heads but when it was discovered that there were not enough red heads to go around, football players with other and varicolored hair, were enrolled on the list.

The team is being organized under the name of the Irish Athletic Club and the roster reads like the list of casualties in the Irish war. Here they are: Skelley, Heery, E. Leahy, W. Neville, J. Rachford, Bogan, Foley, Gallagher, Toohy, Hillard, Jenkins, Sheets, Wones, Fox and O'Connor. The next meeting will be held at the L. E. St. John billiard hall, Friday evening. For game write George Haller or call him over the Bell phone 596-R.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple clean and safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal-oil).

The inventor, E. A. Johnson, 609 W. Lake Street, Chicago, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

ATTEMPT TO QUASH ALL INDICTMENTS AGAINST SHERIFF

Saturday is the day when attorneys for Sheriff L. Funderburgh, Deputies Joe Day and William Burns and Patrolman Charles Simms, will file a motion to quash the nine indictments, returned against them by the Grand Jury last week.

When the accused men, who were indicted jointly for second degree murder and separately for shooting with intent to kill, and shooting with intent to would appear after the jury reported and waived reading of the indictments and service of the copies, counsel for the defense indicated that a motion to quash all the indictments would be filed, and Common Pleas Court set October 14, as the last day for filing such a motion. This means that the motion will be filed with Clerk of

Courts Harvey Elam sometime Saturday morning as the Court House will be closed in the afternoon.

Attorneys for the defendants have indicated that they will base their claim that the indictments be quashed on the grounds that Attorney C. L. Darlington, as assistant to Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson, was present in the Grand Jury room during the investigation of the cases. Attorneys for the state contend that Darlington was legally appointed by Common Pleas Court and had a legal right to be present. After the motion is filed, the state's attorneys will have opportunity to file an answer and then a date for a hearing on the motion will be set.

This hearing will take almost the significance and importance of a trial. Witnesses will be subpoenaed and the motion argued for and against. Whichever way it is decided here it will probably be carried up to the Court of Appeals and to the State Supreme Court if possible. If the final decision agrees with attorneys for the defense and the indictments are quashed, it will be necessary to call an entire new Grand Jury and hold another investigation of the cases. If the motion is overruled, then one or more trial dates will be set.

This should allay a rumor being circulated that one of the trials would begin Saturday. There will be no action Saturday beyond the filing of the motion.

ANTIOCH STUDENTS ACT AS HOSTESSES AT DAYTON HOUSE

NAMED TO PLACE ON BOARD OF SINKING FUND

Harry Sohn, Democrat, was appointed a member of the board of sinking fund trustees by the City Commission in session Thursday night.

The board is composed of four members, who representing each party. The Republican members are J. W. Nisbet and J. W. Santmyer, and the Democratic member are George Galoway and Harry Sohn.

Styles BY LENORE

Many women like like metal tissue or metal lace for evening wear who do not as a rule indulge this preference because these fabrics are a little too elaborate for their needs. At a recent exhibit in Paris, however, one of the gowns most admired by the American buyers was the dress illustrated today.

Silver metal lace was used, but it was posed over a severe slip of black silk, so that the effect, while rich and elegant, was nevertheless agreeably subdued. It is a gown which I am sure would be particularly smart and becoming to that not uncommon type of women whose complexion is youthful but whose hair is gray.

The long wing sleeves are a graceful feature of the dress, and the difference in length between the tunic and foundation gives irregularity to the bottom of the skirt, which is again a characteristic of the new styles.

NOW DO MY WORK WITH EASE

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored My Health

Hornell, N. Y. — "I was in bad health but there didn't seem to be any one thing the matter with me. I was tired out all over and it was an effort for me to move. I was irritable and could not sleep nights and had trouble with my bowels and at my periods. It seemed that nearly everyone around me knew of your medicine and wanted me to try it, so at last I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and improved every day. I do all my own work now except the washing and do it with ease. I can accomplish as much in a day now as it would have taken me a week to do last winter and I try to get every one I know to take your medicine to build them up. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you like." — Mrs. CHAS. BAKER, 21 Spencer Ave., Hornell, N. Y.

In almost every neighborhood there are women who know of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They know because they have taken it and have been helped. Why don't you give it a trial?

PASSENGERS AND CREW ADRIFT IN SEA SIX HOURS

Palatial Liner City of Honolulu Burns to Water's Edge
LOSS IS $2,000,000
Record Run By Shipping Board Vessel Made to Doomed Craft.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 13.—Friday the thirteenth dawned without its traditional terrors for the seventy-six passengers and 187 members of the crew of the palatial liner City of Honolulu. They were safe after passing through the ordeals of fire and being adrift at sea in open boats for six hours.

The speedy rescue of the passengers and crew of the burning liner was a great triumph for radio. Though the radio set aboard, the City of Honolulu was able to apprise the world of the plight of the fire-stricken vessel. Every vessel in the Pacific between the Hawaiian Islands and the United States was informed and ready to render all assistance possible. It enabled quick checking of positions which revealed the City of Honolulu and the Enterprise were in best positions to make the rescue run. When the news came that the West Farallon had won the race and the Thomas would carry the passengers to land, the Enterprise was able to resume her course.

Throughout the day and night wireless kept the world informed of the steps in rescue and through its medium of a flow of private messages informed friends on the mainland of the safety of the endangered ones one they were safe abroad the West Farallon.

High praise of the conduct of Captain R. Lester and the crew of the City of Honolulu was contained in these private messages.

Picked up by the shipping board freighters West Farallon after that vessel had made a record run to the point in the Pacific 650 miles from this coast, where the City of Honolulu became a blazing wreck, the 263 souls whose fate had been cause for grave anxiety spent the night as best they could on the heavily laden outbound freight boat. Its officers and crew gave up their quarters to make the passengers as comfortable as possible.

At daybreak the United States Transport, Thomas was nearing the scene and preparing to take all of the City of Honolulu's passenger list and crew aboard for transportation to San Francisco. The big transport, which in war time accommodated six hundred officers and two thousand men, will be able to take care of all in rough but comfortable style. The transfer is expected to take place shortly after daylight. The Thomas is due here Sunday afternoon.

Burned practically to the water's edge, the hulk of the City of Honolulu—the former Atlantic liner Frederick der Grosse, and war time transport Huron—was still afloat at last wireless reports from the West Farallon. She was expected to sink. In the event she does not go down either the West Farallon will tow her to Honolulu or two coast guard cutters en route here from Mainland ports will endeavor to take her hulk back to Los Angeles.
The loss of the vessel is estimated at $2,000,000.

So far as advices received here have indicated the 37 men and 39 women and children making up the passenger list of the City of Honolulu, suffered but little. The transfer to boats was accomplished without trouble and in orderly fashion after flames had made abandonment of the vessel necessary at 9 a. m. yesterday.

For six hours the passengers and crew floated about with their former liner blazing to the heavens and beholding forth a column of smoke which seemed to reach a mile high.
They were prepared to spend the night in the little boats as wireless reports had indicated the Thomas, the freighter Enterprise were far away.
The West Farallon was a dark entry in the vicinity not being known until long after the City of Honolulu's radio was still.

SNOW FALLS IN MANY PARTS OF MICHIGAN

Detroit, Oct. 13.—Snow was reported in various parts of the state early today, the first time this year causing farmers to fear for their potato crops, still in the ground. At Bozette City, in the heart of the potato belt, intermittent snow flurries were driven by high winds. An hour's snow fall was reported farther south in Ogemaw county and in the Thumb district.

PLAN FOR SHIP PROHIBITION IS BEING MENAGED

Moves By Foreign Lines May Frustrate Entire Program is Word

SEE MANY SUITS

Attempt to Thwart Government's Enforcement Scheme Made

Washington, Oct. 13.—Orders went out from Washington this afternoon that a "rule of reason" is to be followed by the government's prohibition and customs agents in enforcing the Daugherty bone dry rule in American waters.

The order came from Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who is charged with the enforcement of the Daugherty ruling, and they were dispatched to all diplomatic and customs agents abroad as well as to enforcement officers at home.

Washington, Oct. 13.—The federal restraining order issued in New York to prevent prohibition agents from interfering with liquor aboard vessels of the International Mercantile Marine Company will have the effect of holding up enforcement of Attorney General Daugherty's latest bone dry ruling at all American ports, it was declared today Judge J. J. Britt, chief counsel to Prohibition Commissioner Haynes.

Although the temporary injunction issued by Federal Judge Hand applies only to the jurisdiction of New York, restraining the customs officers at the port of New York and the prohibition officials in that territory from warring against ships which bring liquor within the three mile limit, Judge Britt said that the order would apply constructively to the entire country.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Determined moves by foreign ship lines to secure injunction against enforcement of the terms of the Daugherty ship liquor opinion, may frustrate the entire prohibition ship plan, and nullify the effect of any regulations that may later be issued, according to officials of the department of justice today.

Attorney General Daugherty when advised that the international mercantile had secured from Judge Hand a temporary restraining order against federal agents regarding it as the first of a succession of such suits by other ship combines of foreign ownership to thwart the government's enforcement program.

Officials of the treasury said the regulations which are being drafted to enforce the Daugherty opinion will be greatly delayed. Apparently the treasury is waiting to weigh the full effect of the Daugherty opinion, and to study the efforts of the foreign ship owners to combat the decision.

YOUTH RELEASED OF MURDER CHARGE

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 13.—
Investigation of the murder of Rev.
Dr. Edward W. Hall, wealthy rector of the fashionable Protestant Episcopal Church of St. John the Evangelist and his beautiful choir leader
Mrs. James Mills centered today about the house of the slain clergyman.

The celebration, which began last night for the return home of Clifford Hayes, formerly charged with the murder was continuing today. Many stores in the region of Hayes home have large placards in the windows saying, "Hayes is home." There was a fire works display in front of the Hayes home last night and tomorrow friends of the family will sell tags to reimburse the youth's parents for the money they have spent.

RECEIVES SENATOR'S COMMISSION

Mrs. W. H. Felton, called the "Grand Old Lady of Georgia," is shown here receiving from Governor Thomas Hardwick her commission as U. S. Senator to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Thomas E. Watson. She is the first woman ever sent to the Senate.

Turkish Guerrillas Attack Greek Outposts In Thrace

Panic Caused in Constantinople By Activities of Irregulars—Kemal Allows Five Days of Grace.

London, Oct. 13.—Bands of irregulars are attacking Greek outposts in eastern Thrace near the Bulgarian frontier, according to advices from Athens today. Greeks in Thrace are becoming panic stricken as a result of increasing activities on the part of the Turkish guerrillas and are fleeing to Constantinople.

Athens, Oct. 13.—American naval authorities in the Near East today reported that there are 25,000 Greek and Armenian refugees on the Anatolian coast awaiting evacuation to Greece. Kemal has given five more days for the transportation of the fugitives from Turkish soil.

Although General Mazaraki had not yet signed the Mudania armistice protocol, it was reported that the Greek government has notified the allies that Greece will accept it.

Serious trouble is threatened in eastern Thrace where the Greek troops are refusing to obey the Greek war office.

GIRL MAKES ESCAPE IN WESTERN STYLE

Parkersburg, W. Va., Oct. 13.—Defiantly telling them to "go to," a 16 year old Venida Smith, girl horse thief, who escaped from the Wood County Jail here late Thursday afternoon, spurred her pony into the Ohio Hills below Belpro, Ohio, and made her get away from Jailer Callahan and Turnkey Hall, who were chasing her in an automobile. The girl left the jail hatless and without shoes and rode her pony bareback. The officers were forced to give up the chase after the girl cunningly escaped into the hills.

The Smith girl who was indicted
by the grand jury and later arrested on a charge of taking a horse belonging to an oil operator while it stood along a roadside near Parkersburg, escaped from the jail in true western bandit style. She pried the iron bars of a window in the woman's department, crawled through the ledge and slid to the ground.

REPUBLICANS TALK CAMPAIGN PROGRAM

Columbus, Oct. 13.—Plans for electing Congressman S. D. Pess, as U. S. senator, Col. Carmi A. Thompson, as governor and for the election of the entire Republican state ticket were discussed today, following a noonday luncheon at the Deshler Hotel by about 150 Ohio Republican leaders who were guests of Mrs. John G. Battelle, Columbus, vice chairman of the Republican State Campaign Committee.

The reception committee included
Mrs. David Todd, and Mrs. John Mc-Jeton, Youngstown and Mrs. John McKee, Springfield.

GIRL MASQUERADES AS BOY BUT IS CAUGHT

Chicago, Oct. 13.—"It was all wonderful—simply wonderful!"
This was the declaration today of Miss Margaret Davis, 14 year old high school girl who was found last night, disguised as a boy, on a farm near Roselle, Ill., following her mysterious disappearance four days ago.
Police and relatives had been searching frantically for her.

Miss Davis said she started out on her adventure because she did not want to continue as a student at the John Marshall High School and because her parents scolded her for remaining away from school on three days last week.

CONGRESS WILL LIKELY CONVENE ON NOVEMBER 20

Tentative Agreement Between Harding and Leaders Reached

TO COMPLETE WORK

Five Big Appropriation Bills Will Be Ready for Session.

Washington, Oct. 13.—A tentative agreement has been reached between President Harding and leading legislators to summon Congress back to Washington in special session on November 20, thirteen days after the country decides on the political complexion of the new Congress at the polls; it was learned today.

The decision resulted from a number of conferences the president had had with Republican leaders at the White House this week at which a fairly comprehensive program for the expiring 67th Congress was agreed upon. The call probably will be issued Nov. 10.

It is the present plan of the White House to drive the dying 67th Congress' full tilt right up to March 3, the date of its legal expiration, and then not call the new 68th Congress into session until the regular winter session begins in December.

Rep. Madden has informed the White House he will have five big appropriation bills ready to shoot in between December 4 and 10. These and the administration's ship subsidy bill are expected to occupy many weeks.

The president has informed Republican leaders that he distinctly does not want Congress in session next summer, and will not call a session until the following December unless some grave public emergency arises.

Mr. Harding wants to go to the Pacific coast and thence to Alaska, starting next May or June, to be gone several months, and he can not well go if Congress is sitting in the capital. He believes next summer will be an ideal time to get Washington "back to normalcy."

HUGE SIGN PLACED AT CHURCH TELLS OF RALLY DAY SUNDAY

The Rev. W. H. Tilford, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, introduced an innovation in church and religious publicity in Xenia, when he had a huge sign, advertising the Rally Day Sunday, affixed to the front of the church.

The canvas displayed across the front of the edifice stands as an example of modern and progressive methods of bringing the church to the people and as an argument for the theory that the church should advertise as well as other enterprises in order to overcome the appeal of light amusements and keep the pews filled.

he Rally Day Sunday will mark the opening of the fall and winter seasons, when Sunday School members will be expected to shed the laxities that go with the heated period, and resume with more endeavor their Sunday School work. It will mark the return of Sunday School pupils for the fall work, and the occasion will be celebrated fittingly, a program having been arranged, according to the Rev. Mr.
Tilford.

The program will include special music, a play by Sunday School boys and rewards for the children and the pastor will also take part in the affair, which will be held in the Sunday School room of the church at 9:15 o'clock in the morning. In connection with Rally Day Vesper services will be held also Sunday afternoon at four o'clock.

the intersectional football game to-

FEAR RED COUP IN GERMANY IS BEING PLANNED

Communist Agents Sent to Berlin and the Baltic States

London, Oct. 13.—The Russian soviet government today was reported to be sending many communist agents to Berlin and the Baltic states.
Apprehension is being aroused that the reds plan a coup in Germany.
A dispatch from Moscow quoted Leon Trotsky, people's commissar for war, as saying in a speech:

"If we managed to survive the past five years we can live forever." Trotsky announced that Russia will build a minimum fleet to defend Kronstadt, in the Gulf of Finland and the Black Sea coast.

LLOYD GEORGE TO RESIGN POSITION AS PREMIER SOON

Sir Robert Horne May Be Successor—General Election Probable

London, Oct. 13.—Premier Lloyd George, who has held the tiller of the British ship of state for virtually six years, today conferred with King George upon political matters. Believed is growing that the premier will tender his resignation to the king very soon and that he will announce a general election before the end of this year.

Sir Robert Horne, chancellor of the exchequer and head of the British debt funding mission to the United States, conferred with King George last night, leading to a report that he may be the next premier.

It is known that Mr. Lloyd George wishes to retire from public life for a time at least. His health has suffered from the tremendous strain he has been under since he took his present office and he wishes to take a year or more to rest up. During his vacation he probably will visit the United States.

The premier will hold a number of political conferences tomorrow also making a political speech at Manchester.

DEMOCRATS BACK LEGUE SAYS FESS

East Liverpool, Oct. 13.—Simon
D. Fess, Republican candidate for United States senator, in an address here yesterday declared that if the league of nations is to be an issue in 1924 that it should be considered an issue in the present campaign.

Mr. Fess also spoke at Salem and Wellsville.

Fess asserted that in recent statements of James M. Cox, whom he declared is the titular leader of the Democratic party, had urged the United States to join the league and "insist on raising that issue again in spite of the 1920 result."

"The situation in Asia Minor and possible results in Europe demonstrate what joining the league would have meant to America," Fess said.

HAMILTON MAIL POUCH RIFFLED IN DAYTON

platform shortly after 4 a. m. today and found rifled several squares away in the railroad yards at 9 a. m. Amount of the loot obtained will not be known until a check-up has been made at Cleveland.

side the rifled pouch by a track walker.

TRAVELING MEN ROBBED OF TROUSERS ON TRAIN

Dayton, O., October 13.—Twelve passengers in a pullman sleeper from Toledo, awoke here this morning minus their trousers and all their money and other valuables.

A hurry up call for pants and cash was sent out but up to noon some of the marooned traveling salesmen were still in their berths awaiting "first aid." Police are investigating the robbery which occurred about dawn.

AMERICAN LEGION TO VENTURE INTO THEATRICAL FIELD

The annual venture into the amateur theatrical field of Joseph P. Foody Post, No. 95, American Legion, has been mapped out and will be made this fall, according to announcement of the Legion Post entertainment committee.

A contract for an amateur production to be staged here, the latter part of November or first of December at City Hall Theater, has been signed with Adamson and McCann of Dayton, who will give the cast eight weeks of training and will direct and stage the production.

The annual theatrical venture this year will again be of the minstrel forepart type, with an afterpiece of musical comedy nature. Adamson and McCann are both former Xenians and although their partnership to produce amateur performance is new, they have both had considerable experience in amateur theatricals.

V. G. Martin, has been named chairman of the general committee in charge of the production, with Bert Whittington, Fred O'Dea and Will. iam Riddle, as members of his committee. Bert Whittington is chairman of talent committee, assisted by Forest Hurley and Miss Doris Whittington. Raymond A. Higgins is chairman of the publicity committee. Joseph Fealey and Edward Thomas will be in charge of the tickets and programs; Fred O'Dea will be chairman of the stage and scenery committee assisted by Albert Milburn and Francis Lucas.

The talent committee will meet next Monday evening in the executive rooms of Foody Post and talent will be selected for the first rehearsal which will be held next Wednesday evening in the club rooms. Adamson and McCann staged the Firemen's Minstrels in Dayton last year, that was one of the most successful amateur productions of the year there.

K. K. K. ATTACKED IN COLUMBUS DAY TALKS

Cincinnati, Oct. 13.—Attacks on the Ku Klux Klan marked two Columbus day celebrations in greater Cincinnati. William J. Mulligan, supreme director of the Knights of Columbus, declared in an address at the Gibson hotel that the Klan was "an un-American and bigoted clique of narrow minded men who hide in the shadows and meet in the dark," while Dr. David Phillips, leading rabbi of this city, told a Newport gathering that the organization was "a most insidious and dangerous group of bigoted men who are seeking to undermine the constitution of the United States." Both speakers met with hearty applause.

RETIRED TOBACCO MERCHANT KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Cincinnati, Oct. 13.—Henry B. Gentry, 59, retired tobacco merchant of this city, was killed near Washington C. H., yesterday afternoon when the automobile in which was riding with his wife and daughter skidded and overturned. Gentry was thrown out of the car on his head and died shortly afterward, but the two women escaped unhurt. The old man was on his way for a fall visit to his childhood home at Gallipolis when the accident happened.

More Recipes For "Mango" Pickles
Last Thursday (October 5) I published an article on "Mango" pickles. Today am going to give a few more recipes for this type of stuffed pickle. I believe that every housewife will want at least a few jars of these delicious pickles on her Preserve Closet shelves, for guests' meals.

Stuffed Pepper Mangos: Soak sweet peppers in brine (one cup of salt for every gallon of water needed to cover the peppers) for 24 hours.

Then take them from the brine, rinse in fresh water, cut a circle from the top of each pepper and lay this circle aside, to be replaced later. Now remove the seeds and white sections from the peppers, soak them in clear cold water for two hours, drain, and stuff them with the following:

Dixie Relish, using the recipe given above. Replace the cap which you removed, secure it firmly with wooden toothpicks, and pack the stuffed cucumbers in sterilized glass jars. Partially seal, place in your wash boiler canner, with the boiling water rising almost to the jar-top and let the water boil about them for 15 minutes (this seals them airtight.) Press down the side wire to completely seal the jars and store.

Tomorrow—Some good cake icings.

MACHINE CATCHES FIRE

A Stenographer's Romance

BY JANE PHELPS

Chapter 35

Nellie had received cards for George Fallon's wedding and Donald had been included in the invitation. A kind note from Dorothy came also expressing a hope she would attend. "What shall I do? Shall we go?" she asked. She and Donald were in Mrs. Roberts room when the maid delivered the invitation.

"What do you want to do?" Mrs. Roberts asked. "Oh, I'd love to go if Donald will go with me."

"Of course I'll go with you. I shall feel safer after I've seen him married."

"Don't talk nonsense, Donald!" Nellie returned, "But I should dearly love to go. I think Miss Dorothy will be a lovely bride."

"I know a girl that will be lovely," she said. "I finally decided to go to the church, but not to the reception. Nellie felt she would be in a way out of place. She had no evening toilette, and it was an evening affair. But the dinner dress she had bought when going out with George Fallon was still in good order and perfectly appropriate for the church service."

She was almost breathless with interest and delight as they presented the cards at the door, and were led down the aisle by the white gloved ushers. The front pews were marked off by white ribbons, and it was in one of these they were seated. The altar was banked with flowers, and the organist played soft music while they waited. Then there was a little flutter, a straining of necks to see, and Dorothy Fallon in white satin and priceless lace came down the aisle on her brother's arm. He was to give her away Nellie heard someone near her whisper.

Then came the bridesmaids, looking so lovely that Nellie gasped with delight, the tiny flower girl and page, Oh, how glad she was she came!

George Fallon came from a side door near the chancel and took his place beside Dorothy. The service all to short was soon over, and as the organ pealed out a gay wedding march bride and groom came down the aisle. Dorothy caught Nellie's eye and smiled. She said something to George, and he turned in time to also give a little smile of recognition. Then they were followed closely by the page holding Dorothy's train and the rest of the bridal party.

"Oh, wasn't it lovely?" Nellie breathed enthusiastically when they gained the street. "I never dreamed of such a wedding as that and I thought I knew what a real smart wedding would be like. Didn't she look like an angel? And wasn't Mr. George a fine looking bridegroom?" "I know a little girl that looks even more angelic to me," Donald said, looking down at her flushed face and shining eyes.

"And the bridesmaids in their lovely pale lavender and yellow gowns, and that cute little page and flower girl. I'll never forget that wedding as long as I live; it's just like a play or a story."

Suddenly Nellie became aware that Donald was unusually quiet.

"You don't say a word, Donald. Didn't you think it was wonderful?" "Very, dear. The grandest affair of the kind I ever attended. But, Nellie, I couldn't help feeling that I could give you so little compared to what you might have had. I have thought about it before but it never came home to me quite as it did today."

"Why, Donald! Just because I made a fuss over everything?" "No, not that! But as I watched, saw what such a wedding indicated, that the home and everything would be on the same scale, I couldn't help wishing I might give just as much."

"You are giving me more, Donald dear. You are giving me happiness and I love you almost to pieces, and would rather be married to you in the boarding house with only Miss Pitt to see us, than to have every thing else in the world without you." "Saying that about Miss Pitt convinces me," he laughed gayly. And all the way home, in fact all the evening, Nellie talked of the wedding, describing it so clearly that Mrs. Roberts said she felt as if she had seen it with her own eyes.

HUSTON-CONLEY WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

A pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday evening, Oct. 11, when Miss Ruth Huston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester M. Huston, of near Cedarville, was united in marriage to Mr. Wilbur R. Conley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Conley at the home of the bride's parents, at seven thirty o'clock, in the presence of ninety guests.

The beautiful and impressive ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. P. Harriman, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian Church of Cedarville, pastor of the bride and bridegroom, assisted by Dr. W. R. McChesney, president of Cedarville College.

The Huston home was profusely decorated with flowers and potted plants, which combined with evergreens formed a beautiful setting for the altar under which the marriage vows were taken.

Miss Flora Beam of Spring Valley, sang preceding the ceremony, "When You Are Truly Mine" and "O Perfect Love," accompanied by Miss Dorothy Tarr of Cedarville.

At the opening strains of the wedding march the officiating ministers with the bridegroom and his brother, Mr. R. M. Conley of Crystal City, Mo., as best man, entered and took their places. The bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage.

The bride was preceded by the ring bearer, little Rachel Harriman, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Harriman, carrying the rings concealed in the heart of a large white rose. The flower girl, little Janet Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Murray of Jamestown, walked next, scattering rose petals from a basket. The maid of honor, Miss Lorena Glass came next wearing a handsome gown of white crepe de chine trimmed with pink and carrying a bouquet of Ophelia roses, caught with pink tulle.

The bride was lovely in a gown of silk canton crepe with Venetian point lace, and coral trimmings. Her veil of tulle was caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride and bridegroom led the way to the dining room where an elegant three course dinner was served. Seated at the bride's table with the bride and bridegroom were Miss Lorena Glass, Miss Flora Beam, Miss Dorothy Tarr, Miss Mary Chesnut, Miss Marjorie Wright, Miss Florence Smith, Miss Alice Lackey, and Mr. R. M. Conley, Mr. Merrill Stormont, Mr. Velmor Compton, Mr. Aaron Kennison, and Mrs. Clifford Glass.

Mr. and Mrs. Conley left Wednesday night for Cleveland, on a short wedding trip. Mrs. Conley's traveling suit being of dark blue tricot with hat to match.

On their return they will reside on the Whitelaw Reid homestead near Cedarville. Both Mr. and Mrs. Conley are graduates of Cedarville High School. Mrs. Conley at the completion of her school work taking a business course at the Miami-Jacobs business college in Dayton, while Mr. Conley took two courses in agriculture at the Ohio State University. He is a well known young farmer of the county. His bride is popular in a large circle of friends, several prenuptial parties being given in her honor.

SORORITY MEMBERS ENJOY HALLOWEEN PARTY

Amid the round of merry Halloween parties given during this season of the year, was the affair given by the pledges of the Delta Theta Tau Sorority who entertained the members of the organization at the home of Miss Willfred Zartman, on North Detroit Street, Wednesday evening.

The Zartman home was artistically decorated in orange and black, the only illumination being weird pumpkin faces. The girls were costumed in "kid togs" and spent the forepart of the evening with childish games. Three contests were enjoyed, Miss Corrine Welch, Miss Helen Hickman and Miss Lena Bales winning the prizes. During the evening balloons were showered upon the guests each balloon containing a nursery rhyme. The one read by Miss Olive Huston revealed the date of the marriage of Miss Mildred Confer and Mr. Frank A. Lott, Nov. 6 being announced.

Late in the evening a delicious four course luncheon was served cafeteria style. Hostesses for the affair were Miss Olivia Cost, Miss Lucille Beatty, Miss Esther Welch, Miss Elizabeth Mullen, Miss Frances Johnson and Miss Zartman.

The Rev. and Mrs. D. D. Dodds and family are preparing to move soon from their residence on South Detroit Street, to the residence of Mrs. Anna Morris on East Market Street. They will move their household goods as soon as Mrs. Dodds, who has been ill with auto-intoxication, has recovered.

The condition of Dr. Ida Woolsey of West Main Street, who suffered a stroke or paralysis a few days ago, is critically ill and it is believed she can survive only a short time.

Mrs. Charles F. Gowdy, West Church Street, who was quite ill for several days, is now much improved and is able to be out.

The condition of Mrs. L. H. Whiteman of the Fairground Road, who has been very ill for several weeks remains practically the same.

Mrs. M. Haverstick, returned Thursday from Dayton, where she spent ten days with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Reynolds, of Hills and Dales. Mrs. Reynolds is leaving Sunday for St. Paul.

Minn., where she will spend five weeks as the guest of Mrs. Margaret Crockett.

Miss Edith Lewis of Wilmington has accepted a position in the Moger Shoe Store and is making her home with her sister, Mrs. P. A. Fuller.

Mrs. Walter Davis of Dayton Ave. and Mrs. Ella Johnson, of High St., spent Thursday in Wilmington visiting Mrs. Johnson's sister Mrs. Myers.

Mr. E. F. Gale was delightfully entertained at a luncheon given in Dayton Wednesday in honor of her birthday.

SOCIAL GATHERING OF PYTHIAN SISTERS

Mrs. Emerson Osman and Mrs. Sarah E. Fifer receive thirty members of the Pythian Sisters lodge at the home of Mrs. Osman on High Street, Thursday afternoon.

Clever contests, the Halloween season adding to the attractive program and predominating in the decorations of the rooms were amusing features of the affair. A two course luncheon was served the guests.

MOTION PICTURES PROVE POPULAR IN CHINA NOW

Canton, Oct. 13.—Motion pictures with plenty of fast and thrilling action draw the large crowds in Chinese "movie" houses, while films featuring soul kisses, romps with Mona Lisa smiles, and society pictures in which the women wear low cut evening gown soon put the proprietors out of business.

Pictures showing the beautiful heroine escaping from bandits, who are carrying her away in an aeroplane by jumping from the plane to a fast moving train or being rescued from the Indians, just as she is to be burned at the stake, by a brave cowboy, are demanded by the Chinese audiences.

According to the representatives of the Long Kong Amusement Company, Canton, the Chinese are bored to death by prolonged love-making scenes and shocked by the extreme décolleté and the airy, fairy draperies worn by wood nymph dancing maidens with a wreath of flowers on their flowing tresses.

The naughty vamp who wrecks a happy home does not bring a thrill to a Chinese audience. While patriotic pictures, with plots woven around the prodigal son, the daughter who marries the villain to save the old homestead or the sweet courty maid who loves her cows and chickens and wins the heart of the millionaire club man away from the blase women of the city by her simplicity will not produce interest, let alone a tear or a handclap.

What the Chinese movie fan wants is action. He delights in thrilling dramas of adventure, narrow escapes from the claws of death, and he must have a happy ending where right triumphs over wrong after many difficulties.

They are also very fond of comedies and have a keen sense of humor. They rock with laughter over Charlie Chaplin, Harold Lloyd and Ben Turpin pictures. Often the program for an afternoon or evening performance will offer only comedies.

Among the women actresses especially popular in Canton are Ruth Roland and Pearl White. In the lobby of the Pearl Theatre are highly colored posters illustrating three Ruth Roland pictures which are to be shown in the near future.

The thrilling escapades set forth on the vivid billboards are a source of never ending wonderment to the prospective patrons who collect in front of the theatre to discuss the plot possibilities suggested in the illustrations.

The Pearl Theatre is the one big movie house of Canton and the management is hoping to educate his audiences to appreciate the five and seven reel features. As it is they now demand only the long serial with gripping continuous action and comedies.

The management shows only American made films for the Chinese prefer the American pictures to those made by English, French or Italian companies. When films other than those made in America are shown the management informed me, his audience is very small and may dwindle away altogether unless the bill is changed or an American film added to the same program.

EXPECT FAST GAME AT PARK SUNDAY WHEN LEGION PLAYS

Members of Foody Post, American Legion, are anticipating the biggest football game of the independent season here, when their team stacks up against the Dayton Eagles at Washington Street Park Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The Eagles are old rivals of the local eleven, the rivalry beginning when the Eagles were playing under the name of the Beavers and Xenia was represented in semi-pro football by the Mercury Athletic Club. Each year this rivalry has been intensified, and both clubs strive hard to be in tip-top shape for this annual grid clash.

The Eagles will not be in top form for the battle next Sunday, according to advance word from the camp of the Gem City eleven. Last Sunday the Dayton gridders were beaten 7 to 0 by a Columbus team, and they lost more than the game when an X-ray taken several days ago showed that "Ciz" Bergman, star Eagles half-back, received a broken ankle in the Columbus fracas.

The loss of Bergman will handicap the visitors, but with "Tuff" McManus back in uniform for the first time this week, they feel the position well fortified. In addition Friend, Drummer, Eulher and "Cleet" Sillen, former Stivers stars, make up a sweet appearing backfield. Coach Van Hill and Braujan of the University of Dayton, are assisting the Beavers to round into shape this week.

Under the electric lights at Washington Street Park the Legion eleven has not been idle. Using a white ball, visible in the dark, the Legion gridders have turned in a hard week's practice in anticipation of the big game. A full lineup will be available for the local eleven for the first time this season Sunday, and fans expect the locals to do their stuff when they meet the Eagles.

New York, Oct. 13.—Friday the thirteenth proved a fatal hoodoo for Clifford Lennon, a member of hook and ladder company No. 13 of Brooklyn. Lennon was thrown from an automobile, alighting upon his head and sustained injuries from which he died in a hospital. The accident took place in Thirteenth Street, Brooklyn at about 13 minutes after midnight.

THIS IS YEAR OF SMALL MEANS U. S. TOURIST IS WORD

Paris Oct. 13.—This has been the year of the small-means American tourist.

Hertofore a "trip to Europe" has been a luxury confined to the wealthy and the nearly wealthy. It has been an extravagance, at any rate, for which the entire family saved their pennies for years beforehand.

Hertofore, from another point of view, Europeans have been used to seeing only a pampered class of

Americans—Americans who demand everything of the "de luxe" quality, Americans who never so much as count the change, much less ask prices in advance.

NEW ERA IN TOURING

That this season has marked the setting in of a new era in European touring is the belief of M. Junot, president of the "consortium des Agences de Voyage", in an interview.

"Tourists this year are very numerous, but they are not of the richest classes," said M. Junot. "They appear to be for the most part, of classes who are not accustomed to cross the Atlantic or the English Channel."

Among reasons for the change M. Junot cites the fact that the war not only has given folk a taste for travel, but that many former members of the American and British expeditionary forces brought over their families and friends to show them settings wherein they suffered or performed heroic deeds.

He points out also that the taste for economy has been lost somewhere in the shuffle of present-day economic disturbance. Persons of moderate means no longer care what they spend, or whether the future is provided for.

"France should profit by this new order of things," urges M. Junot, "to throw off not only its exceptional monuments of the past, but also its durable pleasures, which make it so pleasant a place to visit. It should not cater entirely to the tourist who comes in a motor car, but it should regard the excursionist who arrives by bicycle. It has enough palaces, it should emphasize now its modest, comfortable and clean hotels of a class beneath."

WOULD SIMPLIFY FARES.

The touring expert advises also simplification of railroad regulations, so that foreigners may understand exactly for what accommodations they pay when they buy a ticket — and in this regard he takes a special dig at the sleeping car companies—and he advocates abolition of visas on passports.

M. Junot complains bitterly that because of the difference in exchange rates most tourists does not stay long enough in France to appreciate the beauties of the country, but use Paris only as a stopping-off place on the way to Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia and other low exchange nations.

HARDING IN THE CAMPAIGN.

A backward look is worth while just now. Mr. Harding made the issue quite clear in 1920. He believed the people were tired of autocracy, and he himself undoubtedly was tired of it. He promised that if he were elected there would be no autocracy and that he would in all things take counsel and give up his original position if he found himself wrong. The Democrats remember that, at least, for they still sneer at his announcement in that campaign that in all cases he would consult the "best minds."

The people deliberately voted their preference for the change in policy indicated by Senator Harding. They voted for the abolition of one-man government and the substitution of a flexible government in which the President would be open to reason and would hear everybody. The issue was plain and the majority tremendous. Governor Cox was well enough liked and made a better run than any other Democrat could have made, but his personality simply did not enter the campaign. It was fought out, not between the two candidates, but upon the issue.

The President faithfully has endeavored to carry out the mandate given him. He has given wide latitude to his Cabinet officers, has conferred patiently with everybody, has corrected such points of his policy as he believed, after consultation, to be mistaken; but he has stood firm for his own principles.

Why, then, should the opposition expect to make capital out of the fact that the President has fulfilled his promises? He has disappointed them by not being the mere figurehead they depicted; but he has been a consulting President, a man who heard everybody and never was stubborn.

REPUBLICAN REFUSAL TO ENTER LEAGUE IS VINDICATED ONCE MORE.

The refusal of the Republican Senate to ratify the Treaty of Versailles and the Covenant of the League of Nations is once more being vindicated by events in Europe. By this refusal the United States was kept out of the League of Nations. Her membership therein would have bound her irrevocably to participate in all European matters; to have helped maintain the boundaries and division of territory as fixed by the Treaty of Versailles.

Europe has been on the verge of a general war involving practically all the nations that were allied against Germany during the World War. This new war was made imminent by the war which has been going on between Greece and Turkey over boundaries and territory which were fixed under the Treaty of Versailles.

The war between these two nations is in itself in defiance of the Treaty of Versailles and the League of Nations. The fact that it has been going on is conclusive proof of the futility and impotency of the League of Nations, whose sole excuse for existence is its pretended ability to maintain peace in Europe, primarily, and throughout the world as a secondary consideration.

At no time since the creation of the League of Nations has there been peace in Europe although none of the wars that have been going on since the League was created has approached the magnitude of the war between Turkey and Greece. Greece was a signatory power to the Treaty of Versailles and the League of Nations, and as such was entitled to have all of her rights and territory as fixed by that treaty guaranteed and protected by the other members of the League. This has not been done, either because the League of Nations is unwilling to live up to its pretensions or because it is unable to do so. Either situation is condemnation of the League and its pretensions.

If the United States were now a member of the League of Nations, there is not the least doubt but that she would long since have been called upon to engage actively in this embroglio, probably in the form of sending an army in the disputed territory to police it and act as a buffer between the warring powers.

IT RAINED.

It rained Saturday after a long autumnal drought. There was no down-pouring gully washer and ground-soaker. Rather was it an apologetic, slow sort of drizzle-drazzle, half-mist, half-rain, that washed Autumn's face and freshened the robes in which she walks in beauty on the hills.

The rain revealed that this is no blazing red-and-gold autumn. There has been no frost to deepen the reds into scarlets and the yellows into raw, new gold. This fall Nature is using pastels, dull tints and softened shades. On Saturday the maples stood out in soft, wet, brown masses. The golds were old-golds and the reds were dulled and blended into the sun-browned hill slopes.

Only the ivy was flying the Soviet colors in red flecks on weathered gray walls. Sumac and sassafras stood in dulled maroons and the dogwoods in dark reds that were lustrous in the slow drip of the rain. Many a tree was wearing its summer colors of July green, shoulder to shoulder and elbow to elbow with its fellows in red, brown and sober yellow.

Deep Summer was jostling mid-Autumn. The Moon of Green Corn was cheek to cheek with the Moon of Falling Leaves. The roadside walnuts were leaf-naked against a background of oaks hardly touched by the magic of October. That magic had spread a mist film in the valleys and hung a purple haze across the brow of the hills.

The leaves fell in soft millions. Black birds moved in ragged regiments against a sky almost as dark as their own moving wings. The rains had started the Pageant of Autumn moving at a swifter pace. It will move faster now, and he is wise who gets himself to the hills and the high roads, to the lanes and the fields and sees something of this yearly miracle pass by. Public Ledger.

GERMANS BID LOW, BUT BALDWIN'S GET ORDER.

A German company underbid the Baldwin Locomotive Works by 50 per cent on some Central American contracts—and did not get the business, Frank E. Sutton, Central American representative of the Baldwin concern, told the Export Club of Philadelphia Association of Credit Men.

Mr. Sutton attributed the failure of the Germans to get the order to a growing distrust of the commercial methods in Germany. The consensus of a discussion following his talk was that Latin-Americans are losing faith in the Germans because of their tardiness in fulfilling contracts.

The uneducated people of Colombia are more friendly toward the United States since the payment of $25,000,000 to that country as an indemnity for the construction of the Panama Canal, Mr. Sutton said.

WONDER IF THE TURKS HAVE ANY BETTER AVERAGE THAN OUR IDIOT AUTOMOBILISTS.

1902--Twenty Years Ago--1922

Arrangements are going along steadily from the starting of the new industry at the old paper mill. The engine has arrived and soon as the contractor gets the bed in shape it can be placed in position.

the Pan Handle is at Xenia.

The positive announcement that Senator Hanna will appear at the Opera House tomorrow night has added enthusiasm to the preparations being made for the meeting which promises to be the largest that has been held in Xenia for a number of years.

Mrs. B. R. McClellan has gone to Steubenville where she is a delegate at a Presbyterian meeting.

HEALTHY TEETH

It has been a long time since we have talked about teeth in this space they are perhaps not a pleasant subject of conversation, yet it is important to know something about them and it is most important to be convinced of the necessity of scrupulous care.

If, from early childhood, the teeth are brushed twice a day and a dentist is visited twice a year the teeth should be healthy and beautiful into

entirely and eat whole wheat. Fine white bread is responsible for a depressing amount of tooth decay because it forms gas in the stomach and increases the amount of fermentation in the mouth. The coarse particles of the whole wheat bread tend to scrape and clean the teeth and to stimulate the gums by friction against them. Coarse grained cereals, bran and cornmeal, for instance, are also good, also raw fruit.

E. B. G.—When the lashes and brows are straw color as yours are, they should be darkened with some harmless stain, such as a decoction from walnut shells, but I should never risk a chemical dye on the lashes. The only inconvenience of using this stain is the fact that it must be applied frequently as it will wear off much faster than a dye. Use a fine sable brush so only the hairs will be stained.

Worried One—I agree with you that "many young women have lines around their mouths," but they need not have them. If you are one of them stop doing the things that cause these lines.

Take care of the teeth. Keep the mouth mobile through exercise and do not bite the lips or form any other bad habits that make the mouth age prematurely.

Brown Eyes—With dark brown hair black eyes and medium shade of complexion, your color is all of these in the autumn leaves.

Tomorrow—Yeast.

Out Sizes For Women

Full figured women will find a special satisfaction in the out sizes of R. A. Underwear, both in unions and separate garments.

R. A. out size garments are full where fullness is needed without the usual bunching and so will resist strain and wear.

The outstanding features of all R. A. women's garments is the long, wide, curved gusset, which gives room and prevents gaping. No binding at the armholes, which are carefully tailored.

R. A. Children's Underwear is made full in the seat, to give freedom without strain, has special button holes that stay buttoned and is made of warm, durable fabric.

Ask the clerk to show you the Eight Points of Excellence of R. A. Underwear.

THE DOOMED SEVEN.

My seven cousins used to drive before my cottage door, and they seemed very much alive, but now they are no more. James Henry's car was trimmed with brass, and blithely it would flee; he stepped too fiercely on the gas and wound it round a tree. John drove a car with faulty brakes—he would not fix the same; we gathered up, with garden rakes, the fragments of his frame. Ned was a glad and smiling wight; where is that springald now? He ran without his lamps one night, and bumped against a cow, Charles tried to cross a railway track before a rushing train; there were nine fractures in his back, his head was rent in twain. And Joseph swung around a curve at fifty miles an hour; his monument you will observe hard by yon old gray tower. Adolphus lit a match to see if he had gasoline, and by the mere and on the lea he is no longer seen. Theophilus was prone to race with other speeding boats, and o'er his quiet resting place now graze the village goats. No more their chugging vans I hear, no more their joyous whoops; oh, other men have cousins dear, but mine have looped the loops.

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

THIS LIFE OF OURS

To him of material mind, life is just a happening, a puzzle without a solution, a dream that seems real but which never does take upon itself form and realization in everyday action.

Whereas to him who is spiritually minded, life exhibits a soul, a purpose, a grand expanse of opportunity through which his life is sieved into an existence that is never-ending through full of change.

Personally, I am indifferent as to my origin. Though I am ready to believe that it is one of vast evolutionary beauty, bathed and cleansed by the thought and desire of a great Creative Mind all through every intricate and interesting step of progress.

I am happy at the thought of being related to the birds of the field and to the moving creatures of the earth. I like to feel that I am a part of one great whole.

The great scientist, Agassiz, taking his stand for spiritual evolution,

once put his thought in these words: "To me the fact that the embryonic form of the highest Vertebrate recalls in its earlier stage the first representatives of its type in geological times and its lowest representatives at the present day, speaks only of an ideal relation, existing not in the things themselves, but in the Mind that made them."

What an astounding thought that all the energy which we as human beings possess, has come about at the expense of the sun!

Tyndall says that "in an amorphous drop of water lie latent all the marvels of crystalline force." A materialistic fact. But H. M. Tichenor, in his interesting little booklet "Biology and Spiritual Philosophy," says that "to the spiritualist, a living cell is evidence of a soul-source if a Soul-source of life, just as a drop of water, containing life, is evidence of an ocean of water."

What we are today, and all that we are, we owe to an early single cell! And our bodies are in themselves masses of millions of cells.

WILBERFORCE HAS PROMISING SCHEDULE

With one game tucked away on the winning side of the ledger by a comfortable margin, Coach Dean Mohr's Wilberforce Varsity football squad, will go after its second game with the East High School eleven of this city next Monday afternoon, which contest is being staged to prime the Varsity for bigger games ahead.

With Captain Tripp, star flanker, and seven other "W" men back from last season, indications are that Wilberforce will have one of the most successful football teams in its history this fall. The team is taking one stiff schedule, but with the eight veterans and a wealth of new material, including many former high school stars, Coach Mohr has the makings of a championship eleven at hand.

This is Coach Mohr's first year as coach of athletics at Wilberforce, succeeding former Coach Taylor to that position. He is a graduate of Northwestern University, at Evanston, Ill., where he distinguished himself in athletics while wearing the "purple". Coach Mohr has mentored both white and colored teams in football, basketball, baseball and track, and the fact that he is all-year coach at Wilberforce means that this University will identify itself with these varied sports during the year.

Coach Mohr has turned out championship teams in all sports, and his last big achievement was in defeating the Division D, "Y" Clippers of Chicago, 38 to 31 for basketball supremacy of the middle west. Letter men who do not do football moleskins again this fall at Wilberforce are Captain Tripp, Roberts, Brown, McGee, Turner, Mitchell, Sedwick and Huff. Among the recruits are Willette, formerly of Central High, Cleveland; Stout of Charleston, W. Va.; Fairfax and Sprig of Ohio University; R. Lewis, of Commerce High, Columbus, P. Redden of West High, Columbus and Stewart, of Wendell Phillips, High, Chicago, who are all showing up well in the initial rehearsals.

Naturally the Varsity does not anticipate any trouble from light East High gridders but the game will give Coach Mohr an opportunity to use a number of his recruits and get a line on his material, in anticipation of big games with Kentucky Normal, Lincoln U., W. Va. Institute, Simmons U., and other games that may be arranged. The schedule of Wilberforce follows:

October 9—Chillicothe at Wilberforce. (Wilberforce won.)
October 16—East High at Wilberforce.
October 21—Simmons University, Kentucky, at Wilberforce.
October 28—Open.
November 4—Kentucky Normal and Industrial Institute at Frankfort, Ky.
November 11—Open.
November 18—Lincoln University at Philadelphia.
November 30—West Va. Institute at Wilberforce.

Springfield, Oct. 13.—Eight persons have been killed and twenty-four seriously injured in Springfield and vicinity since September 1, and the death of Don Cox of Columbus, and the serious injury of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bradford, and their three-year old child of Durbin Thursday. Three fatalities and four serious injuries have been caused by the automobile in the last twenty-four hours. Don Cox, 23, was instantly killed when the auto he was driving from the Champaign county hospital three miles south of Urbana, on the Springfield Urbana pike, was struck by a limited I. C. and E. traction car from Springfield, Thursday morning at 11:26 o'clock.

The Bradford family suffered severe injuries when the brakes of their auto failed to prevent the machine from crashing into one of the coaches of a Big Four passenger train at the Western avenue crossing, about three o'clock Thursday.

Syrup Pepsin Loved By Hosts of Babies

Half a teaspoonful will make a fretful youngster happy and playful

THE mother has her choice of many remedies for her baby's minor ills, but she should be careful which remedy she selects lest she do the child harm. What might be safe for herself may do injury to an infant. You will find that if the little one cries and doesn't want to play that its bowels are constipated. First look carefully to the diet and give the child one-half teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You will then see results in a few hours. You will not have to force it on babies or children; they actually ask for it, it is so pleasant-tasting and free from gripping.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with agreeable aromatics. The ingredients are stated on the package. It is a mild, gentle vegetable laxative that everyone finds effective and pleasant. It is better for you and yours than purgatives, coal-tar drugs, or salt

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

waters and powders, which may concentrate the blood and dry up the skin; or mercurial calomel, which may salivate and loosen the teeth.

Use a safe laxative like Syrup Pepsin, and especially for the children, for invalids, growing girls, nursing mothers, elderly people, and persons recently operated upon who need bowel action with the least strain. Mrs. Lillian Brenington of Woodruff, S. C., always gives her children Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and Mrs. A. E. Blondin of Muskegon, Mich., will not have any other laxative in her home. Your druggist will supply you, and it only costs a cent a dose. Try it in constipation, colic, biliousness, flatulency, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds.

ATTEMPT TO HAVE STATE RECONSIDER BRYAN ESTATE OFFER

An attempt to have the State of Ohio reconsider its decision in the matter of the bequest of the late John Bryan, eccentric millionaire, of a tract of more than 500 acres of land near Yellow Springs for a game preserve, was behind a sojourn of a number of Springfield people to the tract Thursday.

Springfield people who are interested in agitating the proposition and have the State Legislature act on the bequest, organized the journey to the Bryan estate, where they picked and spent the day in travelling over the property. About 45 people were present, it is said.

Bryan left the property to the State with the proviso that it should be used as a game preserve and national park as long as no religious worship of any nature would be permitted within its bounds. The estate was involved in considerable litigation for some time, which prevented the question of its acceptance from coming up until early last spring.

L. F. Cleveland, of this city who was then president of the Greene County Fish and Game Protective Association, was instrumental in presenting the situation before Governor Harry L. Davis, but after considering the bequest Governor Davis turned it down. According to the provisions of the will, the property is then to pass to Greene County and the question of its acceptance was put up to the county commissioners. Although the commissioners are said to favor the acceptance of the estate no formal action on the bequest has ever come from that body.

Members of the Board of Commissioners, R. D. Willison, G. N. Perrill and John A. North, were present at the convocation on the Bryan estate Thursday as was also Rep. M. A. Broadstone, of Greene County, Rep. Tom Calvert, of Clark County and Rep. Wiley of Mercer County. Agitators of the movement to have the state reconsider its original decision hope to interest the legislators in the project. Among Springfield people who are interested in the movement is Judge F. W. Geiger of the Clark County Common Pleas Court.

NEW INDEPENDENT TEAM UNDER WAY

George Haller, former coach of the St. Brigid's High football team is the moving spirit behind the organization of a new independent football eleven, that is now out for the 135 pound championship of this section.

It was originally intended to organize a team composed entirely of red heads but when it was discovered that there were not enough red heads to go around, football players with other and varicolored hair, were enrolled on the list.

The team is being organized under the name of the Irish Athletic Club and the roster reads like the list of casualties in the Irish war. Here they are: Skelley, Heery, E. Leahy, W. Neville, J. Rachford, Bogan, Foley, Gallagher, Toohy, Hillard, Jenkins, Sheets, Wones, Fox and O'Connor. The next meeting will be held at the L. E. St. John billiard hall, Friday evening. ## NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple clean and safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal-oil).

The inventor, E. A. Johnson, 609 W. Lake Street, Chicago, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

ATTEMPT TO QUASH ALL INDICTMENTS AGAINST SHERIFF

Saturday is the day when attorneys for Sheriff L. Funderburgh, Deputies Joe Day and William Burns and Patrolman Charles Simms, will file a motion to quash the nine indictments returned against them by the Grand Jury last week.

When the accused men, who were indicted jointly for second degree murder and separately for shooting with intent to kill and shooting with intent to wound appeared after the jury reported and waived reading of the indictments and service of the copies, counsel for the defense indicated that a motion to quash all the indictments would be filed, and Common Pleas Court set October 14, as the last day for filing such a motion. This means that the motion will be filed with Clerk of

Courts Harvey Elam sometime Saturday morning as the Court House will be closed in the afternoon.

Attorneys for the defendants have indicated that they will base their claim that the indictments be quashed on the grounds that Attorney C. L. Darlington, as assistant to Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson, was present in the Grand Jury room during the investigation of the cases. Attorneys for the state contend that Darlington was legally appointed by Common Pleas Court and had a legal right to be present. After the motion is filed, the state's attorneys will have opportunity to file an answer and then a date for a hearing on the motion will be set.

This hearing will take almost the significance and importance of a trial. Witnesses will be subpoenaed and the motion argued for and against. Whichever way it is decided here it will probably be carried up to the Court of Appeals and to the State Supreme Court if possible. If the final decision agrees with attorneys for the defense and the indictments are quashed, it will be necessary to call an entire new Grand Jury and hold another investigation of the cases. If the motion is overruled, then one or more trial dates will be set.

This should allay a rumor being circulated that one of the trials would begin Saturday. There will be no action Saturday beyond the filing of the motion.

Styles BY LENORE

Many women like like metal tissue or metal lace for evening wear who do not as a rule indulge this preference because these fabrics are a little too elaborate for their needs. At a recent exhibit in Paris, however, one of the gowns most admired by the American buyers was the dress illustrated today.

Silver metal lace was used, but it was posed over a severe slip of black silk, so that the effect, while rich and elegant, was nevertheless agreeably subdued. It is a gown which I am sure would be particularly smart and becoming to that not uncommon type of women whose complexion is youthful but whose half is gray.

The long wing sleeves are a graceful feature of the dress, and the difference in length between the tunic and foundation gives irregularity to the bottom of the skirt, which is again a characteristic of the newest styles.

Bad Luck and the Devil Pursued Him.

"I don't think any one has had more bad luck and sickness than I have. In 1905 I had two ribs, an arm and collar bone broken in a railroad accident. Then I had pneumonia. After recovering I crossed a pasture when a bull chased me, tossed me over the fence and broke my right leg. In 1910 I had typhoid fever; since then severe stomach and liver trouble, which no medicine or doctor touched until two years ago I got a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which proved the first ray of light in thirteen years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver, and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sayre & Hemphill and druggists everywhere.

A TRUE RAT STORY

Auburntown. 6-22-22.
Dear Sirs: Mr. Robert T. Donnell of Auburntown, came in our store the other day and wanted something to kill rats, so I sold him a box Stearns Rat Paste. And he put some paste on six biscuits that night and the next morning he found fifty-four big rats. And the second night he put out four more bi-suits with paste on them, and the second morning he found seventeen more rats.
making a total of seventy-one rats in two nights, and there were lots more that he did not find.

This is some big rat tale, but, nevertheless, it is so. Just thought would write to let you know our rat paste is good.

Respectfully, KENNEDY BROTHERS.

That's the Point! The moment Resinol touches an itching, burning skin, the suffering usually stops.

fails to clear away the inflammation and soreness and finally restores the skin to its natural healthy condition.

Resinol Soap and Resinol Shaving Stick contain the same soothing properties and are used by discriminating men who like their generous, cleansing lather and wholesome Resinol

XENIA WORK HOUSE WILL NOT BE SOLD IT IS ANNOUNCED

The Xenia Work House will not be sold now.

This was emphatically decided Thursday night when there were two dissenting votes to the ordinance providing the sale, cast at the meeting of the City Commission.

Although three of the commisers voted for the ordinance, the majority was not strong enough to carry the ordinance as it requires a two thirds vote when sale of city property is involved and it lost. Judge H.

L. Smith, president of the commission, Mayor M. J. Hartley and Commissioner George H. Hudson voted favorably on the ordinance providing the sale and Commissioner Harry Fisher and Dr. A. D. DeHaven voted against the ordinance.

The Work House is the joint property of the city and county, and is controlled by a Work House Board composed of the County Commissioners and the City Manager, the latter controlling three votes. The Work

House was abandoned for penal purposes some time ago and has since been rented out, the factory part where prisoners made brooms in the old days, now being occupied by E.
H. Hunt with a broom factory.

The building is self sustaining now it is said, the rental derived paying the costs of up-keep. Commissioners Fisher and DeHaven argued that since the property is self-sustaining that more income might be derived from it, as it might be of use again sometime that there is no demand for selling the property and their negative votes defeated the ordinance.
County Commissioners had previously agreed to its sale.

AMERICAN LEGION TO VENTURE INTO THEATRICAL FIELD

The annual venture into the amateur theatrical field of Joseph P. Poody Post, No. 95, American Legion, has been mapped out and will be made this fall, according to announcement of the Legion Post entertainment committee.

A contract for an amateur production to be staged here, the latter part of November or first of December at City Hall Theater, has been signed with Adamson and McCann of Dayton, who will give the cast eight weeks of training and will direct and stage the production.

The annual theatrical venture this year will again be of the minstrel forepart type, with an afterpiece of musical comedy nature. Adamson and McCann are both former Xenians and although their partnership to produce amateur performance is new, they have both had considerable experience in amateur theatricals.

V. G. Martin, has been named chairman of the general committee in charge of the production, with Bert Whittington, Fred O'Dea and William Rieckles as members of his committee. Bert Whittington is chairman of talent committee, assisted by Forest Hurley and Miss Doris Whittington. Raymond A. Higgins is chairman of the publicity committee. Joseph Fealey and Edward Thomas will be in charge of the tickets and programs; Fred O'Dea will be chairman of the stage and scenery committee assisted by Albert Milburn and Francis Lucas.

The talent committee will meet next Monday evening in the executive rooms of Poody Post and will be selected for the first rehearsal which will be held next Wednesday evening in the club rooms. Adamson and McCann staged the Fireman's Minstrels in Dayton last year, that was one of the most successful amateur productions of the year there.

K. K. K. ATTACKED IN COLUMBUS DAY TALKS

Cincinnati, Oct. 13.—Attacks on the Ku Klux Klan marked two Columbus day celebrations in greater Cincinnati, William J. Mulligan, supreme director of the Knights of Columbus, declared in an address at the Gibson hotel that the Klan was "an un-American and bigoted clique of narrow minded men who hide in the shadows and meet in the dark," while Dr. David Philipson, leading rabbi of this city, told a Newport gathering that the organization was "a most insidious and dangerous group of bigoted men who are seeking to undermine the constitution of the United States." Both speakers met with hearty applause.

Efficient Housekeeping

More Recipes For "Mango" Pickles
Last Thursday (October 5) I published an article on "Mango" pickles. Today am going to give a few more recipes for this type of stuffed pickle. I believe that every housewife will want at least a few jars of these delicious pickles on her Preserve Closet shelves, for guest meals.

Stuffed Pepper Mangos: Soak sweet peppers in brine (one cup of salt for every gallon of water needed to cover the peppers) for 24 hours. Then take them from the brine, rinse in fresh water, cut a circle from the top of each pepper and lay this circle aside. To be replaced later. Now remove the seeds and white sections from the peppers, soak them in clear cold water for two hours, drain, and stuff them with the following:

Dixie Relish for Stuffed Peppers: Mix together one quart of chopped cabbage, one pint of chopped white onion, one pint each of chopped red and chopped green sweet peppers (before chopping these soak them for two hours in brine made of one cup of salt, one gallon of cold water then drain peppers, remove seeds and coarse white fibres, and chop, add the following spices to the chopped vegetables: Two tablespoons of crushed celery seed, and four tablespoons each of mustard seed and salt. Mix all well to gether add three-fourths of a cup of white sugar and one quart of vinegar and let stand overnight in an enamel pot or bowl. Then use to stuff the peppers.

Do not press this filling into the peppers too firmly. Replace the circle which you previously cut from the top of the pepper, securing it in place with wooden toothpicks. Pack as many stuffed peppers in a jar sterilized as possible without stuffing, then fill the jar to overflowing with a spiced vinegar. (See recipe for spiced vinegar published last Thursday. If you missed it buy a back copy of this newspaper. Adjust jar covers, partially seal, process jar in your wash-boiler canner in boiling water which reaches to within one-half inch of jar-top, remove from canner, completely seal and store.

Spiced Cucumber Mangos: Select large cucumbers and prepare them exactly as directed last Thursday for spiced, cured cantaloupe melons. After they have soaked for a week in the spiced, cold vinegar, slice a cap from the stem end, and scoop out the center of the cucumbers, fill this cavity with Dixie Relish, using the recipe given above. Replace the cap which you removed, secure it firmly with wooden toothpicks, and pack the stuffed cucumbers in sterilized glass jars. Partially seal, place in your wash-boiler canner, with the boiling water rising almost to the jar-top and let the water boil about them for 15 minutes (this seals them airtight). Press down the side wire to completely seal the jars and store.

Tomorrow—Some good cake icings.

Chapter 35

Nellie had received cards for George Fallon's wedding and Donald had been included in the invitation. A kind note from Dorothy came also expressing a hope she would attend. "What shall I do? Shall we go?" she asked. She and Donald were in Mrs. Roberts' room when the maid delivered the invitation.

"What do you want to do?" Mrs. Roberts asked. "Oh, I'd love to go if Donald will go with me."

"Of course I'll go with you. I shall feel safer after I've seen him married."

"Don't talk nonsense, Donald!" Nellie returned. "But I should dearly love to go. I think Miss Dorothy will be a lovely bride."

"I know a girl that will be lovely," Donald teased. They finally decided to go to the church, but not to the reception. Nellie felt she would be in a way out of place. She had no evening toilette, and it was an evening affair. But the dinner dress she had bought when going out with George Fallon was still in good order and perfectly appropriate for the church service.

She was almost breathless with interest and delight as they presented the cards at the door, and were led down the aisle by the white gloved ushers. The front pews were marked off by white ribbons, and it was in one of these they were seated. The altar was banked with flowers, and the organist played soft music while they waited. Then there was a little flutter, a straining of necks to see, and Dorothy Fallon in white satin and priceless lace came down the aisle on her brother's arm. He was to give her away Nellie heard someone near her whisper.

Then came the bridesmaids, looking so lovely that Nellie gasped with delight, the tiny flower girl and page, Oh, how glad she was she came!

George Fallon came from a side door near the chancel and took his place beside Dorothy. The service all so short was soon over, and as the organ pealed out a gay wedding march bride and groom came down the aisle. Dorothy caught Nellie's eye and smiled. She said something to George, and he turned in time to also give a little smile of recognition. Then they were followed closely by the page holding Dorothy's train and the rest of the bridal party.

"Oh, wasn't it lovely?" Nellie breathed enthusiastically when they gained the street. "I never dreamed of such a wedding as that and I thought I knew what a real smart wedding would be like. Didn't she look like an angel? And wasn't Mr. George a fine looking bridegroom?"

"I know a little girl that looks even more angelic to me," Donald said looking down at her flushed face and shining eyes.

"And the bridesmaids in their love-

Suddenly Nellie became aware that Donald was unusually quiet. "You don't say a word, Donald. Didn't you think it was wonderful?" "Very, dear. The grandest affair of the kind I ever attended. But, Nellie, I couldn't help feeling that I could give you so little compared to what you might have had. I have thought about it before but it never came home to me quite as it did today."

"Why, Donald! Just because I made a fuss over everything?" "No, not that! But as I watched, that the home and everything would be on the same scale, I couldn't help wishing I might give just as much. You are giving me more, Donald, dear. You are giving me happiness and I love you almost to pieces, and would rather be married to you in the boarding house with only Miss Pitt to see us, than to have everything else in the world without you." "Saying that about Miss Pitt convinces me," he laughed gayly. And all the way home, in fact all the evening, Nellie talked of the wedding, describing it so clearly that Mrs. Roberts said she felt as if she had seen it with her own eyes.
